STRONG SENTIMENT AGAINST JEROME

Thaw's Canadian Sympathizers Follow Him Into New Hampshire.

PARTISAN FEELING REVIVED

Presence of Canadians in Colbrook Enlivens the Situation—Fugitive to be Arraigned at Ten O'clock This Morning

Colbrook, N. H., Sept. 11.—Twenty-five Canadians, several of them outspoken opponents of William Travers Jerome after his arrest in Coaticook, Quebec, last week, on a charge of gambling, and others from Sherbrooke, where Harry K. Thaw received such an ovation in court, have followed the fugitive across the border into New Hampshire, and revived with their coming the intense partisan feeling so evident while Thaw was in the Dominion. Jerome denounced one of them in public today.

Their presence in Colbrook enlivened what was otherwise a typical Thaw day for those who have been following the erratic course of Stanford White's slayer since his escape from Matteawan Sunday morning, August 17th. There was no court proceeding, Thaw's arraignment being put off by mutual consent until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, and Thaw's lawyers apparently thinking him safer in the custody of the sheriff than at large, abandoned their attempt to release him on a writ of habeas corpus.

Thaw's Hotel Guarded.

The guards about Thaw's hotel were increased tonight from 12 to 20. All were armed and under the direction of Chief of Police Charles Kelley. The chief appointed his first deputies yesterday after hearing stories that officers from New York might attempt to spirit Thaw away. He augmented them in the face of rumors that the Canadian contingent might essay the same thing with the idea of snatching Thaw from Jerome's hands, and at the same time rebuking high Dominion officials responsible for Thaw's sudden deportation yesterday morning.

Crowd Follows Prisoner.

Groups of Canadians stood about the hotel corridors and on the street corners throughout the day, and closely followed Thaw on the two trips he made from his room. The first of these was to the barbershop, the second to the office of his chief counsel, Thomas Johnson. Two automobiles, engines running, stood at the curb in front of the office all the time Thaw was within. This so alarmed the police chief that he and his men completely surrounded Thaw when he was brought out and escorted him to the hotel.

Jerome Cynical

Mr. Jerome spoke with a smile tonight of the "camp followers" from across the border, but added that he had heard apparently authentic reports that some of the more emotional of the Thaw sympathizers from Canada had spoken seriously of liberating him.

Jerome's denunciation of the partisan from Coaticook occurred in the Monadnock House, where Thaw is housed. The man, who interested himself in working up evidence against Jerome on the gambling charge of which he was accused ,asked to be introduced to him. Jerome looked him over coldly then spoke acridly, bitterly, of his experience in Coaticook, naming the man as the ringleader. There was a moment of strained silence, then Jerome turned his back.

Thaw's progress down Main street to his lawyers' office this afternoon, drew the population of the village, and environs to the scene. Every available vehicle in town was pressed into service; windows along the way were filled with heads. Thaw, head erect and smiling, walked beside Sheriff Drew. Behind them trotted the small boys of the village, ahead a small yellow dog, yelping delightedly. From a second-story window a small girl tossed Thaw a boquet of sweet peas. But there was no cheering.

Unless more delay intervenes, Thaw will be brought before Justice Carr in the morning on the complaint that he is wanted in New York for conspiracy.

Real Fight Yet to Come.

Counsel for New York will ask that Thaw be remanded until a requisition warrant can be presented to Governor Felker, and that he be removed to the county jail at Lancaster. Then will begin the real fight against extradition.

In preparation for this Thaw has retained still another lawyer, N. E. Martin, ex-Mayor of Concord, a leader in the State Democracy and a close associate of Governor Felker. He arrived in Colbrook today.

Attorney General Tuttle was still here tonight. He declined to discuss reports that the Governor would refuse to honor requisition papers signed by Martin Glynn as acting Governor of New York.

"My whole time," said the attorney general, "has been devoted to assisting in the preparation of jury cases in the Superior Court and the proceedings in relation to Mr. Thaw have not thus far claimed any part of my time and attention.

"I see that one paper reports that I have been in conference with Mr. Jerome. This is an error. I have not met the gentleman and am not at present informed of his plans. Any duty of mine in this matter will not begin until some request from the Governor commands my service."

The Late Mayor of New York City.

AS HE APPEARED TAKING THE OATH OF OFFICE.

MAYOR GAYNOR DIES ABOARD OCEAN LINER

News of His Death Flashed from Steamer Baltic in Mid-Ocean by Wireless and Cable to New York—Remains to be Brought Home on Steamer Cedric—Municipal Political Situation Overturned by Demise.

New York, Sept. 11.—William J. Gaynor, Mayor of New York city, voyaging over sea on the steamer Baltic in the hope of regaining his strength to enter the three-cornered municipal campaign as a candidate for re-election, died suddenly on the Baltic as the steamer was within a few hundred miles of the Irish coast yesterday afternoon.

The first news of his death flashed by wireless and relayed by cable from Europe reached his secretary, Robert Adamson, this morning. The Mayor had succumbed to heart failure, the message said.

Later dispatches from his son, Rufus W. Gaynor, who was his father's only traveling companion, gave details which showed that the end had come with shocking suddenness.

That the Mayor's heart had been in a weakened condition for years was the statement tonight of physicians who treated him at the time he was shot in the neck and almost done to death by an insane discharged employe of the city in August.

Plans for a public funeral to be held probably on Monday, September 22nd, will be made tomorrow by the Board of Estimate. Late advices from abroad say the body may be transferred from the Baltic to the steamer Cedric sailing from Queenstown tomorrow, or to the Lusitania sailing from Liverpool on Saturday.

They will arrive in New York Friday or Saturday of next week.

George McAneny fusion candidate for president of the Board of Aldermen, announced late today that he had decided to postpone his vacation trip abroad on which he had planned to start on Saturday. McAneny and William R. Prendergast, fusion nominee for city comptroller, were in conference with Gaynor leaders relative to accepting their endorsement when news of the Mayor's death was announced.

Whether another candidate to head the Gaynor league ticket would be named was problematical tonight. Of the many tributes to Mayor Gaynor from men of prominence in public life, one from Theodore Roosevelt was among those made public.

A week before Mayor Gaynor sailed on the Baltic he was visited at his country home at St. James, L. I., by his secretary, Robert Adamson, and Fire Commissioner Joseph Johnson. The latter in speaking of the Mayor's condition at that time quoting him as saying of his illness:

"I coughed all night long; I could not stop it. My right lung was fighting it out with the fish hook in my throat. I don't see how my heart stood it. I thought it would burst. But the doctor now says that I am all right. He says my heart is still good. I think I shall be all right soon."

News of the death of her husband reached Mrs. Gaynor at the Gaynor country residence at St. James early this morning. With her were Norman, the second oldest son, and her daughters, Helen, Marion and Ruth. Mrs. Harry K. Vingut, another daughter, lives in a cottage near the Gaynor home, and at once joined the family circle. Another married daughter, Mrs. Webb, has been spending the Summer at Bay Shore, where she was notified of her father's death.

Many messages of sympathy and condolence were received by Mrs. Gaynor. Only intimate friends of the family were admitted to the home.

New York, Sept. 11.—Mayor Gaynor died on the steamer Baltic in mid-ocean at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, according to a cablegram received here today from Rufus W. Gaynor, his son.

News of his death was received here in a message sent by wireless and cable to Robert Adamson, his secretary, by Rufus W. Gaynor, his son, who sailed with him.

The message read as follows:

"Father died Wednesday at 1 o'clock due to heart failure. Notify mother."

Mayor Gaynor sailed away from New York on the morning of September 4th, on the Baltic. An hour before he sailed, but one man, his secretary, knew of his plans outside of members of his immediate family. The Mayor's announced purpose was a brief vacation on the ocean. He felt that the tonic effect of the salt air would restore him in some measure to health. The Baltic was due at Queenstown today.

The Mayor died as the ship was nearing the other side. The news of his death was sent by wireless to Cuxhaven, by Rufus W. Gaynor, and relayed from Cuxhaven to New York by cable. Mayor Gaynor left New York at a time when the city was seething in one of the strangest municipal political campaigns in its history.

The day before his departure he was notified on the city hall steps by representatives of independent political organizations that they had chosen him as their standard bearer in the mayoralty campaign. A throng that crowded City Hall Park assembled to hear him accept. He had prepared a speech of acceptance, but was so weak that he was unable to deliver it, and his secretary read it for him, the Mayor standing beside him.

He had expected to attack Tammany Hall sharply, politically, as soon as he returned to the city. Before his departure he issued a characteristic statement, levelled at Tammany Hall leaders and other political opponents, in which he referred to them as "miserable scamps," and asserted that they were seeking his "moral assassination."

The bullet that lodged in his throat three years ago had never been removed. It was the Mayor's plan to remain abroad less than a week. He expected to sail for New York from Liverpool on September 18th and to reach the city a week later.

Political Situation Affected.

Mayor Gaynor's sudden death completely overturns the municipal political situation. It removes from the field a candidate for Mayor who was expected to cut heavily into the vote of the fusion nominee, John Purroy Mitchel, and leaves only the tickets nominated by the Democrats and the fusionists. The former is headed by Edward E. McCall, former chairman of the Public Service Commission of this district.

The passing of Mayor Gaynor recalled the sudden death of Henry George, of single tax fame, and a third party candidate, almost on the eve of the New York mayoralty election some years ago.

Secretary Adamson received the cablegram announcing the Mayor's death while he was at his home in Brooklyn. Mr. Adamson notified Mrs. Gaynor at the Mayor's country home at St. James, and then endeavored to reach by telephone Adolph L. Kline, the act-

ANDERSON RESIGNS SEAT ON COMMITTEE

ASSAILS THE CAUCUS SYSTEM

Minnesota Republican Declares "System of Legislation" in Effect Has Made His Efforts a "Farce and a Fraud."

Washington, Sept. 11.—As the climax of the vigorous Republican condemnation of Democratic legislative methods which has marked the currency debate, Representative Sidney Anderson, of Minnesota, on the floor of the House late today resigned as a member of the powerful Ways and Means Committee.

Bitterly assailing legislation through caucus action and partisan consideration of the Underwood tariff bill, and the Glass Currency bill, in committees, Representative Anderson declared the "system of legislation established here" made his efforts on the committee a "farce and a fraud."

Throughout the day Republicans criticised the means employed by the Democrats in framing the currency bill, denouncing the secret sessions of the Banking and Currency committee majority and the secret sessions of the caucus which endorsed the bill. This evening Representative Anderson obtained the floor and sent his resignation to the clerk's desk to be read.

The House listened in silence, and when the clerk concluded Mr. Anderson, in a lengthy speech explained his reasons for resigning.

"I am induced to resign my membership on the Committee on Ways and Means," he said, "because the rules of this House and the system of legislation in vogue here deprive me of my opportunity for service to the country on that committee, and because my continuance on that committee must be construed into an acquiescence in fraud upon those who have a right to believe, and do believe that I have had, or shall have, some part in framing the legislation reported by that committee.

The rules of the House, written and unwritten, deprive me of my opportunity for service, and the system of legislation, visible and invisible, which obtains here strips me of my prerogatives as a representative of the people.

"If the present system continues, the inevitable result must be that men of industry and ability no longer will seek membership in the House."

He reviewed the course of the tariff bill through the Ways and Means committee and the House, and said: "I have no part in the framing of the tariff bill which passed the House and the Senate. I shall have none. I am overwhelmed, discouraged, disheartened, by the uselessnegs and fruitlessness of it all."

In an analysis of the operation of the caucus system Mr. Anderson declared that 14 Southern States—Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia—"alone send 129 Democrats to the House—enough to control the legislative policy of the caucus, and hence of the House."

Throughout the day the general discussion of the currency bill continued, Democrats lauding the measure, Republicans endorsing parts of it, and condemning strongly the provisions for bringing National banks into the proposed new system and making the new reserve notes government obligations.

SHOOTING TOURNAMENT.

Opening Day Ends With Victory for Second Infantry.

Sea Girt, N. J., Sept. 11.—The opening day of the 23rd annual Seagirt international and inter-State shooting tournament ended with a victory for the team representing the Second Infantry, National Guard, of New Jersey in the Columbia trophy match. The winners scored 829 out of a possible 900. The rifle men not competing in the Columbia match practiced today for the interstate regimental, Gould individual rapid fire, company team matches and other matches scheduled for tomorrow.

OUTLINES

Washington is convinced that Mexico has no effective plan for the enactment of peace, and that the situation there is drifting.

Seventy-one thousand, nine hundred dollars in currency, in transit from New York to Savannah, was stolen from a portable safe on the Atlantic Coast Line train No. 89.

Mayor Gaynor, of New York, died in mid-ocean aboard the steamer Baltic, at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. News of his death was received by wireless yesterday.

Republican Representative Sydney Anderson, of Minnesota, resigned from the Ways and Means committee, declaring that the Democratic legislative system now in effect made his efforts a "farce and a fraud."

Twenty-five of Thaw's Canadian sympathizers followed him to Colbrook, and their presence enlivened the situation, as some of them were outspoken in their denunciation of Jerome.

New York markets: Money on call steady 2 3-4 to 3 per cent; ruling rate 2 3-4; closing bid 2 3-4 to 3 per cent. Flour steady. Wheat easy. Corn easy. Turpentine steady. Rosin quiet. Spot coton quiet; middling uplands 13.15; middling gulf 13.40; sales none.

MEXICO'S PEACE PLAN INEFFECTIVE

Washington Officials Believe the Situation is Drifting With No Progress

UNCLE SAM FIRM IN ATTITUED

Washington, Sept. 11.—Administration officials here are convinced that the Mexico City authorities have no effective plan of their own to bring about peace in Mexico, and that the situation there is drifting.

The United States will await with interest the election scheduled for October 6th, but does not feel bound to recognize the government resulting from that election. Should an election be attempted while most of the country is up in arms ,and in which a majority of the people shall have had no voice, the American government will adhere to previous precedents and withhold recognition. These views are expressed by officials in administration circles who know the position of President Wilson.

Senor Manuel de Zamacona, supposed to be the personal representative of Provisional President Huerta, left Washington today, after a day's visit, without seeking any interviews with government officials. Charge Algara, of the Mexican embassy, conferred with Secretary Bryan but shed no light on the Zamacona mission. The attitude of the United States toward Zamacona has been made plain to the Mexican officials. He will be received only if he came to treat on a new basis and on the assumption that the proposals made by John Lind have been finally settled, namely, that the request for recognition be withdrawn and Huerta eliminated from the Presidential contest.

These points the American government considers essential and sees no necessity for further negotiation unless they are agreed to.

While the situation in Mexico City is described by administration officials as one of quick sand, Mr. Lind is to remain in Mexico indefinitely, using his own discretion as to when it is best for him to return.

President Wilson left tonight for Cornish, N. H., to spend the week-end with his family at the Summer White House, and during his absence no further developments are expected. The administration will await the message to be delivered by Provisional President Huerta next Tuesday to the Mexican Congress.

Investigate Recent Killing.

Washington, Sept. 11.—The State Department today was advised that the Mexican Federal government had directed the military Governor of Chihuahua to investigate immediately the recent killing of Edmond Hayes and John Henry Thomas, Americans, at Madera, by forces under Francisco Cordova and punish the guilty persons. This action was taken in response to urgent representations by Charge O'Shaughnessy at the direction of the department.

Rumor That Huerta Will Resign.

Vera Cruz, Sept. 11.—Persistent rumors current here that General Huerta really intends to resign from the Presidency at an early date, are interesting President Wilson's personal representative, Mr. Lind. Tending to support these rumors are two stories, apparently from an authentic source. One is to the effect that an American, calling on the provisional President, asked him what he intended to do.

General Huerta smiled and replied that one of his eyes had been troubling him greatly of late. Then he laughed and added that if that eye became worse he might have to leave the country and undergo an operation some time early in October. As a matter of fact, General Huerta underwent an operation for cataract several months ago.

The other story was told recently at a dinner party. An Englishman present quoted General Huerta as saying: "Well, it is quite possible that by the end of the week, or soon after, I shall no longer be President."

According to many persons who recently have come to Vera Cruz, from the capital, the impression is growing there that General Huerta soon will withdraw from the Presidency. The majority of them incline to the belief that he will enter the electoral race; others that he will follow General Porfirio Diaz to Europe.

ENGLISHMEN GET CONTRACT.

For Turbine Drums for the Newest American Battleship.

Washington, Sept. 11.—An English builder today was awarded the contract for turbine drums for the newest American battleship No. 39 at a little more than one-third the price offered by the lowest American bidder. The accepted bid was $57,436, submitted to New York agents of the Cyclops Steel & Iron Works, Sheffield, England.

It is exceptional for the Navy Department to send a contract abroad, but Acting Secretary Roosevelt held that the action today was justified by the tremendous difference between English and American prices. The Sheffield bid includes the payment of duty and by giving the work to the foreign builder the United States saves more than $100,000.

There were two American bidders, the Bethlehem Steel Company, $169,568, and the Milvale Steel Company, $160,272. The Carnegie company, the only other domestic concern equipped to build the drums did not bid.

HUGE SUM STOLEN FROM EXPRESS CAR

DETECTIVES WORKING ON CASE

Money Was in Transit from New York Banks to Points in Georgia —Loss Was Discovered Yesterday.

Savannah, Ga., Sept. 11.—Currency amounting to $71,900 in transit from the Chase National Bank, of New York, to the Savannah Bank & Trust Company and to Brunswick and Valdosta, Ga., banks, was stolen from a portable safe on the Atlantic Coast Line train No. 89, between Jersey City and Savannah. It should have arrived here yesterday morning. The loss became known today.

Fifty thousand dollars of the amount was consigned to the Savannah Bank & Trust Company here. The money was shipped by the Southern Express Company.

W. F. McCauley, the president of the Savannah Bank & Trust Company, confirmed the loss of the $50,000. It was shipped out of New York on Monday on train No. 89 ,of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad. When the sealed steel trunk in which it was supposed to have been shipped was opened it was found that the money had disappeared.

"All that I know about it," said President McCauley, "is that the money was started to us from New York, and that it never reached here."

The Southern Express Company has hurried its best men to Savannah to undertake the recovery of the money, or to locate the thieves.

The seals on the outside of the steel trunk or safe did not show that they had been tampered with, but the sealed envelopes in which the money was contained when it left New York, were slit open.

The shipment was sent out of New York by the Adams Express Company and delivered to the Southern Express Company at Washington, D. C.

Officials of the Southern Express Company tonight were reticent as to the disappearance of the currency. It is reported that detectives for both the Adams and Southern Express companies are at work on the case. There have been no arrests made.

J. B. Hockaday, of Atlanta, general manager of the Southern Express Company, and other officials are here directing the search for the missing money.

Bank President's Statement.

New York, Sept. 11.—Samuel C. Miller, vice president of the Chase National Bank, in charge of currency movements, said today that his bank had shipped a large amount of currency to banks in Georgia by the Adams Express.

"If this money has been stolen," he said, "and is not recovered the loss will fall not upon the bank, but upon the express company."

Mr. Miller said that the $50,000 package was only one of those in the shipment made by the Chase National Bank. He declined to give further details.

CONGRESS CONDENSED.

Summary of a Day's Work in the House and Senate.

Senate:

Met at noon and after failing to agree on legislative programme for next week, adjourned at 1:18 P. M. until noon Monday.

House:

Representative Anderson, of Minnesota, resigned from Ways and Means committee, denouncing Democratic caucus methods.

Recessed at 6:14 P. M. to 8 P. M.

Resumed currency debate.

Representative Treadway, of Massachusetts, announced the death of his colleague, Representative Wilder, and after adopting resolutions of sympathy and respect, the House, as a further mark of respect, adjourned at 9:27 P. M. to 11 A. M. tomorrow.

PRESIDENT PRESENTS CUP.

To Winners of the German-American Sonder Class Yacht Race.

Washington, Sept. 11.—President Wilson today presented to the American crew, winners of the German-American Sonder Class Yacht race, the President's cup. The ceremony took place on the south lawn of the White House, and was attended by practically the entire cabinet.

The President invited the American and German crews to a buffet luncheon, while the marine band played.

PARDON FOR M'NAUGHTON.

Former Cumberland County Man Will be Granted Clemency.

Savannah, Ga., Sept. 11.—A special to the Savannah Press from Atlanta states that the prison commission has recommended a full pardon to Dr. W. J. McNaughton, under sentence of death from Emanuel county and in jail in Savannah. Commissioner Patterson presented a minority report recommended a commutation of sentence.

Dr. McNaughton is a former citizen of Cumberland county, N. C., where he is well known.

Washington, Sept. 11.—Representative William Henry Wilder, of the Third Massachusetts district, died at his apartments here tonight after a lingering illness.

MAJORITY MEMBERS ADJUST CONFLICTS

Between House and Senate in Work on Tariff Revision Bill.

REPUBLICANS ARE BARRED

Simmons Predicts Rapid Progress Toward a Complete and Harmonious Agreement of Tariff Disputes.

Washington, Sept. 11.—With the minority members of the Conference committee barred from the proceedings the Democratic majority in charge of the final work on the tariff revision bill today began its work of adjusting conflicts between the Senate and House.

At the end of a short afternoon session the Democrats had completed work on the chemical schedule, and Representative Underwood and Senator Simmons predicted that progress toward a complete agreement would be speedy and harmonious.

The Democratic conferees will not call their minority in until they have settled all phases of the tariff dispute. The conference which began today was participated in by Senators Simmons, Williams, Shiveley and Johnson, and Representatives Underwood, Dixon, Kitchin and Rainey.

Representative Murdock, the Progressive named on the House conference committee, appeared at the conference room early in the afternoon, but when he found the Democrats were working separately on the bill, he made no effort to join the conference.

In today's session the House members yielded to the Senate on the majority of amendments, accepting the Senate lower rates on most of the disputed items. The reductions made by the Senate on coal tar dyes issued alizarin and anthracene were approved, and the Senate rates on soaps were retained, although the language of the paragraph was changed at the suggestion of House members.

A compromise was made on the item of chlorate of potash, which the House had taxed at one cent per pound, but which had been free listed in the Senate. It is understood the compromise will be based on practically an even division of the House rate.

The Democratic conferees will meet daily in morning and afternoon sessions and the Republican members probably will not be called in until the latter part of next week. Senator LaFollette intimated today that he considered the procedure of the Democrats unusual, in working over the bill without their associates named from the two Houses, but other members of the committee said the method pursued was in line with precedents established in other tariff revisions.

Washington, Sept. 11.—President Wilson has laid before the tariff conferees the protests by Central American countries against the proposed duty of one-tenth of a cent a pound on bananas. It is understood the Presfdent favors the elimination of the tax on the ground that it eventually would fall on the poor.

MURDERED WOMAN IDENTIFIED.

Although Head, Arms and Legs Were Missing from Body.

New York, Sept. 11.—The woman who was murdered ten days ago and whose body was cut up and thrown into the Hudson river, was identified this afternoon as Mrs. Casper Janin, of this city. Although the head, arms and legs were missing, the body was identified by a mark on the back. The woman's husband made the identification and told the police she had disappeared from her home on August 14th.

The identification was made at the morgue in Hoboken.

Casper Janin, the husband, told the Hoboken police that he and his wife lived in Barcelona, Spain, up to about three years ago, when the woman left him and came to this country. Janin said he followed her soon after and found her at West 104th street, New York.

Janin was positive of the marks on the back of the body which he said were birth marks, offered an unmistakable means of identification.

Mrs. Janin's mother, he said, had similar marks on her back and the same mark appeared on the shoulder of their six-year-old child.

The police set out to find the man whose name Janin gave them as the proprietor of the house on West 104th street.

UPRISING IN VENEZUELA.

Revolutionary Troops Defeated by the Government Forces

Caracas, Venz., Sept. 11.—The defeat by government troops of the revolutionary forces commanded by General Asuncion Rodriguez, exprefect of Cumana, and one of ex-President Castro's military leaders and his subsequent flight to the Dutch West Indian Island of Buena Ayres, have ended the uprising in Eastern Venezuela.

The Zenezuelan army remains at Maracay in full strength, Prisoners from the State of Tcharia and the eastern district continue to arrive at this port.

REFUGEES LEAVING MEXICO.

One Hundred Americans En Route From Torreon to United States.

Mexico City, Sept. 11.—One hundred Americans including a score of women and children, according to consular dispatches just received, are making their way overland from Torreon in pursuance of warning issued by President Wilson.

AL DEMAREE TWIRLED GIANTS TO SECOND STRAIGHT VICTORY

PHILS DOWNED CARDINALS

Al Demaree, who is maintained on the Giants' pitching staff by a New York newspaper, at great expense, to furnish pictorial stories of the great American game, and incidentally works for McGraw as a side line, was on the mound for the Giants yesterday, and his steady pitching, aided by Pittsburg's poor base running and two glaring errors, won the second straight game from the Pirates by a 4 to 1 score. Adams, Ames and Hendrix were seen in succession on the firing line for the Buccaneers, allowing a sum total of ten hits.

Playing the game through in a light downpour of rain, the Dooin Phillies won a victory over the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday, Pitcher Hopper, of the Cards, made his major league debut and was pounded hard by the Phils.

Pitcher Reulbach took the mound for the Brooklyn Dodgers, opposing his former teammates of Chicago yesterday, and the Dodgers won the second straight game from the Cubs, 6 to 5. Managers Evers and Heinie Zimmerman were both benched for "jawing" Umpire Byron.

Cincinnati nosed out a victory from the Boston Braves in an old time batting bee which netted 31 hits old told.

Errors Aid Giants.

Pittsburg, Sept. 11.—Demaree's steady pitching, aided by Pittsburg's poor base running and two costly errors by the locals, gave New York its second victory this afternoon over Pittsburg.

New York	000 100 120	4	10 1
Pittsburg	100 000 000	1	6 2

Demaree and Meyers; Adams, Hendrix and Simon and Kelley; time 1:42; umpires Klem and Orth.

Phils Paddled to Victory.

St. Louis, Sept. 11.—Pitcher Hopper, who was traded by St. Louis last year and returned to the Cardinals by the New Haven club, made his major league debut here this afternoon and was pounded for eight runs by the Phillies while Seaton for the visitors yielded but two scores. A light rain fell throughout the nine innings.

Philadelphia	001 203 101	8	10 0
St. Louis	000 000 002	2	5 3

Hopper and Wingo; Seaton and Killifer; time 1:30; umpires Eason and Brennan.

Benched Two Cubs.

Chicago, Sept. 11.—Pitcher Reulbach took the mound against his former teammates today and Brooklyn won the second straight game from Chicago 6 to 5. Reulbach allowed Evers' men but two hits until the seventh inning. Manager Evers argued with Umpire Byron about Reulbach's stepping off the rubber and was banished to the club house. Zimmerman also was sent to the club house for arguing a decision.

Brooklyn	002 300 010	6	10 1
Chicago	101 000 300	5	6 1

Reulbach and Fischer; Pierce, Lavender and Archer; time 1:38; umpires Rigler and Byron.

Batting Bee at Cincy.

Cincinnati, Sept. 11.—In an old time slugging bee here today Cincinnati nosed out Boston by 12 to 11. Maranville faced the pitchers six times, getting five hits and a base on balls, while Kling, who faced the twirlers four times, obtained a base on balls, a single, a double and a triple.

Boston	011 000 423	11	19 4
Cincinnati	011 330 22x	12	15 1

Hess, Noyes and Whaling and Tragreser; Suggs, Ames and Kling; time 2:35; umpires O'Day and Emslie.

FORT CASWELL TOOK SECOND.

Defeated Moultrie 9 to 7—Visitors Used Three Pitchers.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Fort Caswell, N. C., Sept. 11.—Fort Moultrie used three pitchers in the second game against Fort Caswell yesterday but they were unavailing against the Caswell batters who scored 9 to 7 against the visitors. The game was rather loosely played, the weather not being the kind that baseball people enthuse over. A strong wind swept the diamond making judgment on flies uncertain. The series now stands one each and the third game will be played today.

Washington, Sept. 11.—A countervailing duty on dried or candied fruits and combed wool or tops from Australia, equivalent to the bounty granted to those products by the Australian government, was ordered today by the Treasury Department.

Washington, Sept. 11.—The bill already passed by the House admitting free of duty all foreign goods for exhibit at the Panama Pacific Exposition in San Francisco in 1915, was passed today by the Senate.

With 17 Twirlers Tigers Needs More

Detroit, Sept. 11.—Seventeen of the 37 players the Tigers have on their roster are pitchers. For years the Detroit club has been weak as to its pitching staff, and President Navin and Manager Jennings have made up their minds that pitchers they must have.

But pitchers are very, very hard to get and get good.

Napoleon Lajoie turned baseball philosopher the other day and discussed some of the difficulties of a baseball magnate with a Detroit sport writer. Nap has never been a baseball magnate, but from his long experience as manager and player, he knows whereof he speaks just the same.

"Lots of people though Barney Dreyfus was crazy when he paid $22,500 for Marty O'Toole recently," remarked Lajoie. "I don't know whether Barney paid that much in cash or not, but if Marty comes through for Pittsburgh it was money well spent. If I were a club owner and had a pitcher offered me that I absolutely knew would be a tsar in the big league, I don't think I would hesitate at paying $50,000. It would be money well spent, but I doubt if many club owners will agree with me.

Got Joss for Nothing.

"But they spend the money just the same in the effort, without getting the star pitcher. When I came to Cleveland Somers and Kilfoyle had Addie Joss. He had cost them nothing and he proved to be one of the best pitchers and ball players the game ever knew. But after they got Joss they invested a good deal more than $50,000 in pitchers, without getting another man equal to Joss, until Gregg was bought. See my argument? The average club owner will think nothing of paying anywhere from $2,000 to $5,000 apiece for pitching recruits whom he hopes will make good. Nine times out of ten the money is thrown away, while the tenth time he may get only a fair pitcher. My contention is that if the opportunity is presented, a club owner should not hesitate about paying the price for a star. He'll not only save money by not having to buy so many second-raters, but he will also make it up at the gate.

"Go back through your memory. In ten years Cleveland has had two real star pitchers—Joss and Gregg. Chicago has had Ed Walsh, and Walsh has been the one man to keep the White Sox out of the cellar. St. Louis has not had any. New York, had Chesbro and later on Russell Ford. Philadelphia had Waddell, Plank, Bender and Coombs. Washington has had only one—Walter Johnson, while Joe Wood is the only one developed by Boston. Cy Young and Bill Dineen were stars at Boston, but they were stars before they joined our league.

"I agree with Addie Joss when he said that pitching was the biggest part of the game. If I had had Vean Gregg to work along with Addie back in 1908, we would have played the Cubs for the world's pennant, but one star pitcher rarely wins a pennant, especially if that star is a man who needs at least three days in between his agmes.

Scarcity of Stars.

"Yes, sir, star pitchers are mighty scarce. You can go out and get the outfielders, who can throw, bat and run bases; you can get the infielders who can field with a lot of speed and hit fairly well, but you have got to go some to dig up two great pitchers in two or three seasons, to say nothing of in one year. No use talking, but Philadelphia was lucky when it grabbed Alexander and Chalmers the same season and got them cheap, at that.

"You say the club owning the star pitchers would not sell. Perhaps not, but if some of the magnates were to lump together the money they throw away in buying pitchers promiscuously and were to offer it for one star pitcher, the magnate owning that pitcher would do a lot of thinking before he turned down the offer."

Washington, Sept. 11.—Charles J. Vopicka, of Chicago, was confirmed by the Senate today as minister to the Balkan States. A strong fight had been made on his nomination.

WHY HE DOES IT

Druggist J. Hicks Bunting Gives Reasons for Selling at Half Price

It isn't often that I have faith enough in the medicines put up by other people to be willing to offer to refund the money if it does not cure, said Druggist J. Hicks Bunting to one of his many customers, but I am glad to sell Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia on that plan.

"The Dr. Howard Co., in order to get a quick introductory sale authorzed me to sell the regular fifty cent bottle of their specific for half price, 25 cents and although I have sold a lot of it, and guaranteed every package, not one has been brought back as unsatisfactory."

I am still selling the specific at half price, although I cannot tell how long I shall be able to do so. Any person who is subject to constipation, sick headache, dizziness, liver trouble, indigestion or a general played out condition, ought to take advantage of this opportunity. If the specific does not cure them, they can come right back to my store and I will cheerfully refund their money.

..Theatrical..

"The Confession", which will be seen at the Academy of Music next Tuesday night, seats going on sale at Plummer's Monday, comes to this city from two triumphal seasons after scoring a successful run at the Broadway Bijou Theatre, New York City.

"The Confession" uses for its theme life's most vital subject, telling a story that is consistent, interesting and with a strong uplift. A priest, a mother, a sweetheart, an innocent man condemned to death are among the central figures of this play of today. It is claimed that no more absorbing tragedy has ever been conceived nor greater stage picture and lesson ever presented.

The subject produces material for a play that should be of unusual interest and unlike anything else ever produced. Mr. James Halleck Reid, the author, has submitted his play to the public, firm in the belief that the much abused theatre-goer would welcome a play with real life interest, dramatic worth, consistency of plot and literary merit. To this end he has labored.

The locale of the play is placed at Gloucester, Mass., Charleston, Mass., and Boston, Mass. The scenes are the rectory of "Our Lady of Mercy Church," Gloucester, the preliminary court room at Gloucester, the prison at Charleston, and the Governor's office at Boston. The time of the play is the present.

The Grand's Offering Today.

Four of the sweetest of swell films are on at the cozy, handsome Grand today and will, of course, attract folks by the hundred, and, besides beholding a wonderful show, they can revel in solid comfort, because the Grand is the home of comfort. The quartet of films are the very latest and most expensive to obtain. "The Detective's Trap," is Kalem's big offering, telling of two professional thieves, the arrest of the wrong man and the clever work of detectives. There is also another exciting and fascinating film in Edison's "The Substitute Stenographer." It is a masterpiece in the way of dramatic action. A woman plays the leading role and the entire cast is fine. Edison offers today "Circumstances Make Heroes," and it is a domestic comedy drama with a newness about it that will be keenly relished. "The Fly" is also a leading film at the Grand today and it is something entirely new, and of great educational value.

Another Big Bijou Bill

The Bijou's conquest of the hearts and admiration of the amusement-lovers of Wilmington was complete yesterday, and the great Warner special release three-reel film, which is a weekly feature at this popular house was received with glad acclaim by huge audiences. Today's bill is going to be another that will make folks "sit up and take notice." Consequently giant-sized audiences will be the rule again today. Today's swell show will be headed by Kalem's latest, "For Her Sister's Sake," in which that well known and charming actress, Alice Joyce, will appear in the stellar role. It is a beautiful story of love and sacrifice. A thrilling detective story is also one of today's big stars in Selig's "Fate Fashions a Letter." It tells of the chase Detective Rand has after a thug, "Slick Jim," and the startling climax, in which the sleuth's wife is put in danger. There is also a swell Western film feature in Essanay's "The Rustler's Spur." The Bijou will be delightfully comfortable, being electrically cooled and electrically ventilated.

COBB VS. JACKSON

Ty Cobb went three points ahead of Jackson by yesterday's performance, and Tris Speaker now stands only seven points below the mighty Jackson. Out of three attempts, Jackson found one safety, while Cobb found three out of six for the day's work.

BUNCHED HITS OFF SCOTT WON FOR THE ATHLETICS

Athletic Captain Benched for Disputing Verdict of Umpire.

SENATORS FOURTH FROM NAPS

Tigers Have Easy Victims in World's Champions—Recruit Twirler Won for Lowly New Yorkers.

The Philadelphia Athletics, after experiencing one of the worst slumps of the season, came back yesterday and defeated the Chicago White Sox by a 4 to 1 score, in a pitchers' duel between Shawkey and Scott. Bunched hits by Shawkey, Collins and Baker in the seventh inning won the game for the Mackmen.

The Washington Senators won their fourth straight game from the aspiring Cleveland Naps yesterday, and now Washington fans are again talking about taking the pennant. Nine games now divide the Griffmen from the Athletics, and two games lie between them and the Birmingham bunch.

The Detroit Tigers won an easy victory from the Boston Red Sox, the score being 15 to 2. The Tigers made a total of 20 safe hits, good for 20 bases, which were aided also by six errors of the Boston team.

The New York Yankees shut out the St. Louis Browns by a 4 to 0 score, McHall, a Yankee recruit, pitching brilliant ball, issuing but four hits.

Athletics Come Back.

Philadelphia, Sept. 11.—By bunching singles by Shawkey, E. Collins and Baker, with E. Murphy's sacrifice and J. Collins' wild throw in the seventh inning, Philadelphia defeated Chicago today by 4 to 1. Up to that point Shawkey and Scott had a twirling duel. After hitting safely in the seventh, Shawkey was taken out to permit Walsh to run for him. Bender finished the game. Capt. Murphy, of Philadelphia, was ordered off the grounds by Umpire Connolly in the sixth inning for arguing.

Chicago	000 000 100	1	6 2
Philadelphia	000 010 21x	4	8 2

Scott and Schalk; Shawkey, Bender and Schang; time 2:00; umpires Connolly and Dineen.

Senators' Fourth Straight.

Washington, Sept. 11.—Six bases on balls, two hits and an error gave Washington seven runs and the game in the seventh inning today, making it four straight over Cleveland. The score was 7 to 3. Manager Birmingham was put off the field and Catcher O'Neil out of the game for disputing a decision of Umpire Egan in the seventh.

Cleveland	000 200 100	3	5 1
Washington	000 000 70x	7	4 2

Steen, Cullop, Blanding and O'Neil and Carish; Engel, Gallia, Hughes and Henry; time 2:30; umpires Egan and Evans.

Tigers' Easy Victory.

Boston, Sept. 11.—Twenty hits for a total of 27 bases made by Detroit, combined with Boston's errors gave the visitors an easy victory today, 15 to 2. Detroit drove Bedient from the box in the fourth inning and Hall was treated likewise. Dauss kept the five singles made by the locals well scattered. Henricksen, a hero of the deciding game of the world's championship last year, apeared in a game for the first time in three months.

Detroit	000 401 271	15	20 3

Dauss and McKee and Gibson; Bedient, Hall, Anderson and Cady and Thomas; time 2:03; umpires Hildebrand and O'Loughlin.

Yanks Won.

New York, Sept. 11.—New York won today's game from St. Louis by a score of 4 to 0. McHale, a New York recruit, pitched brilliantly, shutting out the visitors with four hits and issuing only two passes. Mitchell twirled well for St. Louis, but the home club bunched six hits on him in the seventh and eighth inning.

St. Louis	000 000 000	0	4 0
New York	000 000 22x	4	8 0

Mitchell and Alexander; McHale and Sweeney; time 1:28; umpires Ferguson and Sheridan.

ECHO FROM "DEAD BALL" DAYS.

Famous Elm City Team to be Written Up—Champions in 1874.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Newbern, N. C., Sept. 11.—Dr. J. D. Clark, of this city, one of the several surviving members of the old Elm City baseball team, which made baseball history in the year 1874, has been chosen as historian of the team and is now engaged in writing a history of the various members of the team and of the games played by them.

At the time the Elm City team was in its glory it was the strongest team in the State and claims the unique distinction of having won every game which it played. One of the most memorable games played by this team took place in 1874 when the team went to Raleigh during the State fair and played the Raleigh team for the State championship.

The Elm City team was victorious and were awarded the ball and bat which were used in the game as trophies of the occasion. This ball and bat is now in possession of E. B. Hackburn, of this city. The surviving members have ordered that a case be made for these and that upon the bat be engraved the name of each man who participated in that memorable game and that it be placed on exhibition at some public place.

INTERNATIONAL CRICKET.

Englishmen Win Over New Yorkers by Ten Wickets.

New York, Sept. 11.—The Incognito Club of England won their cricket match at Livingston, Staten Island, this afternoon from the gentlemen of New York by ten wickets. The New Yorkers completed their first innings with 141 runs and their second with 152 a total of 293.

The Englishmen made eight runs in their second innings without having a wicket down, winning the match by ten wickets with a total of 295 runs.

E. Plank Leads In Runless Games

Edward Plank is the "boss" of the whitewash brigade. The expert wielder of the brush. The chap who has distributed goose eggs with a free and open hand, exceeding all records in this line in the history of the American League.

By placing six shutout games to his credit this season Edward Plank has surpassed the mark set by "Iron Man" Walsh, of the White Sox. Mr. Plank has 59 of these games to his credit—all 9-inning games or better.

A Swell Record.

The wonderful left-hander framed up his first runless game in 1901 against the Milwaukee club, then a member of the American League. And every season since the expert exponent of the cross-fire delivery has placed a goodly number of these games on record.

"Ed" Walsh, the former holder of the honor, lost the cunning or otherwise out of his arm before the Veteran Plank did, so it put him out of the running. No doubt if the "Iron Man" could have held this season he would still be king of the Whitewash Brigade.

Another Distributor.

Dr. White is another gentleman who proved a clever distributor of "goose eggs." The dentist has had the extreme pleasure of applying the brush 53 times. Other hurlers who have proved handy in holding the opposition runless in Mr. "Ban" Johnson's circuit are or were "Cy" Young, the much-lamented "Addie" Joss, the never-to-be forgotten G. Edward "Reuben" Waddell, and the latest aspirant for honors in that line is W. Johnson, the holder of many records. Plank is liable to add a few more scalps to the many that now dangle from his belt before the season closes.

But the lead of six games will hold him as champion for another year at least. Here is the list of those who made a record of 40 or more runless games in the American League since its organization:

Name	Number of Years	Number of Games
Plank	13	59
Walsh	9	54
White	13	52
Joss	10	44
Young	11	44
Waddell	10	40
Johnson	7	40

NEW LODGE INSTITUTED.

Another Junior Council Organized Last Night at Junior Hall

The third council for Wilmington of the Junior Order of American Mechanics was instituted last night at Junior Hall on South Front street. It was organized by Mr. L. O. Smith, organizer for the seventh district, assisted jointly by the Jeff Davis and George Washington councils. There were 26 charter members of the new council present last night, and there is a long list of applications which will be received later. The most important matter taken up last night was the election and installation of officers.

The officers elected last night are as follows: Past Councilor and Representative, Mr. Stuart R. Keyes; Councilor, Mr. D. P. High; Vice Councilor, J. L. Davis; Recording Secretary, Mr. T. M. Pridgen; Financial Secretary, J. W. Jackson, Jr.; Treasurer, L. P. Mathews; Chaplain, Mr. C. C. Rice; Conductor, Otto Genaux; Warden, Walter Moore; Inside Sentinel, J. P. Andrews; Outside Sentinel, Mr. N. E. Wells; Trustees, Messrs. W. A. McGirt, J. O. Carr and W. A. Andrews. After their election they were duly installed.

The meeting last night was held in the hall of Jeff Davis Council which met with the new council. A committee was appointed to take up the matter of securing a hall, and also to recommend a name for the council. All minor matters concerning the organization will be attended to at the next meeting of the lodge which will be next Thursday night.

The new council starts out with unusually bright prospects. It has a strong membership, and the indications are that it will rank from the first in point of membership with the older councils of the city.

Comes to Wilmington to Live.

This week's Whiteville News-Reporter: "This community loses to Wilmington one of her brightest and best young business men this week when Mr. John Carter leaves to accept a position with Alex. Sprunt & Son, of that city. Mr. Carter has for a number of years been connected with the Whiteville Lumber Company and has served them efficiently. His many friends here wish him every success in his new field."

WAKE CHAINGANG CONDITIONS

Grand Jury Finds Them Bad and Three Officials Are Being Tried for Assaulting Convict—Cases to be Pushed.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 11.—Since the grand jury's report that conditions at the county convict camp were filthy and disgraceful, W. L. Wiggs, general road supervisor; J. M. Nipper, a former camp supervisor, and Jim Jackson, a guard, have been indicted on the charge of assaulting a convict, and because of the jury's report as to health conditions, it is thought that these cases charging cruelty will be pushed.

An indication of the enthusiasm that Governor Craig has developed for golf playing is the fact that he was in conference all yesterday until 4:30 o'clock with President Tate and the advisory board of the Just Freight Rate Association, and then took a spin out to the Country Club for a nine-hole game with two friends, thethreesome finishing the home green barely in time to avoid having to call the game on account of darkness. As a price for his evening's sport he was at his desk in the executive office until a late hour last night clearing up accumulated business of State. He finds that golf playing is a great physical help and well worth the time he is devoting to it.

The Farmers' Co-operative Ginning Co., of Shelby, Cleveland county, is chartered with $10,000 capital authorized and $2,000 subscribed by W. W. Wilson, D. O. Wilson, J. E. Crosby and others for general cotton ginning and cottonseed oil milling.

Judge Bragaw is directed by Governor Craig to hold a special term of Currituck county Superior Court beginning September 20th and continuing one week. The court is for trial of civil cases.

The North Carolina Fire Protection Association, in session here the past two days, elected B. J. Smith, Charlotte, president; R. S. Busbee, Raleigh, vice president; E. E. Gray, Jr., Winston-Salem, secretary. While here the members of the association inspected more than 300 business houses as to fire precautions and witnessed a demonstration of the work of Raleigh's new paid fire department in training for fighting fire.

B. F. Dixon, son of the late Hon. B. F. Dixon, State auditor, has been made assistant city attorney in charge especially of the work of prosecuting cases in the police court. His salary is $600. J. W. Hinsdale, Jr., is city attorney at a salary of $1,200.

Judge Chas. M. Cook, holding Wake Superior Court, allowed the suspension of judgment on the payment of costs in the case of Dr. L. B. Capehart, who entered a plea of guilty of selling whiskey. He is a negro physician who until very recently conducted a drug store here and says his clerk made the sale without his knowledge.

MARKET SPACES RENTED.

Let Out to Highest Bidders by Councilman Loughlin Yesterday.

Stalls and spaces in the public markets which had not already been rented were auctioned off at the respective market houses yesterday morning by Councilman Chas. C. Loughlin, in charge of the Department of Public Affairs, assisted by Col. Chas. H. White, tax collector. A large portion of the space in the Front street market house was rented last year to the firm of Hopkins, Davis & Hintze for a period of five years, the lease last week having been transferred to their successors, J. J. Hopkins & Son, and this space, of course, was not offered yesterday.

Davis & Hintze yesterday secured the vegetable stand on the side near their stall for $20 a month and 25 cents premium, and the other vegetable stand was secured by J. J. Hopkins & Son at $20 a month and 25 cents premium. A stall in the rear of the market was rented by Mr. J. M. Holland for $75 a year and 25 cents premium. Room No. 3, upstairs, went to Mr. J. H. Hardin for $36 a year and 25 cents premium. Room No. 4, upstairs, was rented by J. J. Hopkins & Son for $18 a year. Mr. W. M. Sneeden rented store No. 1 for $15 a month and 25 cents premium. Store No. 2 was not rented, but likely will be in a few days. Fish spaces Nos. 1 and 2 were rented to O. R. King for $8 a month each with premium of $17.50 each. Kinsey Hobbs got space No. 3 for $8 a month and $19 premium. Spaces 4, 5 and 6 went to R. C. Fergus at $8 a month each with premium of $75.50.

Mr. O. H. Kennedy rented the lower floor of the market at Fifth and Castle streets for $16.66 2-3 a month and 25 cents premium. It is rented by the month as the building will likely be torn away within the next few months and a new one erected in its place.

Josiah Cumber secured Stall No. 1 in Fourth street market, in the First Ward ,at $120 a year and 25 cents premium. Stall No. 2 went to Decatur Sneed at the same rental. W. Hansley got Stall No. 4 at $100 a year and 25 cents premium. Store No. 1 was rented to W. Otersen for $100 a year and 25 cents premium. S. O. Frink got store No. 2 at $100 a year and 25 cents premium. The fish spaces at this market were rented to Mason Bros. for $200 a year and 25 cents premium.

EDUCATIONAL RALLY.

School Committeemen of County Will Meet Here This Morning.

The school committeemen of the county and the Board of Education will meet at the Hemenway school building this morning at 10 o'clock to discuss various matters concerning the schools of New Hanover, more particularly those of the rural sections. The discussions will be entirely informal, and there will be no set speeches. All friends of education who are interested in the advancement of the educational affairs of the county are requested to attend the meeting, and take part in the discussions, if they so desire.

The Teachers' Institute which has been in progress for the past ten days, closed yesterday afternoon. Prof. Catlett, county superintendent of public instruction, stated last night that it was very successful from every point of view, and he felt that the teachers had derived great benefit. The rural schools of the county will open Monday, and the teachers will go direct from the institute into the school room.

Prof. I. C. Griffin, superintendent of the Marion, N. C., graded school, who conducted the institute, left for his home last night. Miss Susie Fulghum, of Goldsboro, who assisted him, also returned to her home last night.

SHIPMAN ENTERS COMPLAINT

State Official Tells Senators There is General Dissatisfaction Over Conduct of Deputy Collectors' Examinations.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., Sept. 11.—M. L. Shipman, Commissioner of Labor of North Carolina, today conveyed to Commissioner of Internal Revenue Osborne and Senators Simmons and Overman, the extreme dissatisfaction throughout the State with the character of examinations which were submitted to the applicants for positions of deputy collectors last month.

He declared it is the general belief that very few North Carolinians passed the examination which was altogether inconsistent with the duties required of deputies and the salary received. He told of one case where a college graduate flunked on the examination to secure men to beat the bushes for illicit distilleries, and urged that some way be found to keep the recently temporarily appointed deputies in office until they can pass the examinations, which it is believed will shortly be modified.

No Civil Service for Deputy Collectors

After listening to Mr. Shipman's portrayal, Senator Overman declared his intention of trying to secure the adoption of his resolution to take the deputy collectors from under the civil service, as a rider to the urgent deficiency bill which is now before the Senate.

Mr. Shipman is also urging the appointment of C. E. Wilson, formerly of Hendersonville, Shipman's home town, as director on posts and collector of customs for the Canal Zone. Wilson is now engaged in business on the canal.

Senator Overman left tonight for Salisbury where he will remain about ten days.

Congressman Gudger returned here today and announced he will be a candidate to succeed himself next Spring.

Dr. B. B. Williams, of Greensboro; J. M. Daniels and brother, of Wilson; W. N. Everett and wife, of Rockingham; J. H. Green, of Gastonia, and Larkin Kiser and J. O. Plonk, of King's Mountain, are visiting here.

The following postmasters were appointed today: William T. Jenkins, Birdtown, Swain county; Thomas L. Gwyn, Springdale, Haywood county, and Clyde S. Thompson, Vass, Moore county. G. H. M.

FRESHET AND HIGH TIDES.

Moccasin and Tar Rivers Out of Banks —High Tides in Neuse and Trent.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., Sept. 11.—Every stream in this section of the State is affected today by heavy freshets, and Tuesday and early yesterday most of them by abnormal tides.

A rise of several inches has been noted in Neuse river here, and the stream is expected to be considerably above the normal stage when the crest of the heavy freshets coming from up State strike this point. This is due to the exceedingly heavy rains recently. Two and three-quarter inches was recorded as the precipitation of last Wednesday. The Moccasin river at Snow Hill is rising rapidly. At Greenville the Tar river is out of its banks, though the height of the rise is believed to have been reached. The stream is higher than in many months. At Greenville during last week's storm the river rose four feet from the tide in Pamlico river, the second time in history, it is said, that it has been affected by the tide at that point. No loss of stock has occurred, but farm lands in the vicinity are inundated.

Tuesday, with a brisk northeast wind, similar except in velocity, to the gale that caused such damage last week, drove water from the sound into Neuse and Trent rivers at Newbern until those streams rose two feet above the usual high tide mark. In Pamlico river with its greater width the rise was not so great, but still was considerable. Many people feared a repetition of the recent storm at points near the sound, but this failed to occur and the water gradually receded before midnight.

REV. WM. BLACK TO PREACH.

Presbyterian Synodical Evangelist to Hold Meeting at Currie.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Atkinson, N. C., Sept. 11.—Rev. William Black, synodical evangelist, will probably hold a protracted meeting at Currie and Caswell Presbyterian churches, subject to the approval of the Home Mission Committee of Wilmington Presbytery, on a date not yet determined, but in the near future.

The Wilmington Presbytery meets at Wallace the 24th of this month, and each delegate will be expected from every church in the Black River group, and is requested to bring to Presbytery a written history of his church, as was requested at the last Presbytery. It is also desired that every delegate be able to report that his church has paid in full the pastor's salary.

How to Avoid Those Pains and Distress Which so Many Mothers Have Suffered.

It is a pity more women do not know of Mother's Friend. Here is a remedy that softens the muscles, enables them to expand without any strain upon the ligaments and enables women to go through maternity without pain, nausea, morning sickness or any of the dreaded symptoms so familiar to many mothers.

There is no foolish diet to harass the mind. The thoughts do not dwell upon pain and suffering, for all such are avoided. Thousands of women no longer resign themselves to the thought that sickness and distress are natural. They know better, for in Mother's Friend they have found a wonderful, penetrating remedy to banish all those dreaded experiences.

It is a subject every woman should be familiar with, and even though she may not require such a remedy, she will now and then meet some prospective mother to whom a word in time about Mother's Friend will come as a wonderful blessing. This famous remedy is sold by all druggists, and is only $1.00 a bottle. It is for external use only, and is really worth its weight in gold. Write to-day to the Bradfield Regulator Co., 127 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for a most valuable book.

ICE

without doubt offers in all respects the best Ice to be had in this market.

The water used is drawn from deep wells and is clear, pure and cold; it is distilled and double filtered, then reboiled making it absolutely pure.

It is then frozen at a very low temperature making Ice of the highest sanitary quality.

The best authorities on analytical chemistry prove our claim that no purer Ice than ours can be made.

Our Ice cuts clear and sure thus avoiding the waste in using so noticeable in other makes of Ice; therefore, careful and discriminating consumers will make no mistake in calling for our Ice on the grounds of purity, economy and general satisfaction.

Our delivery service is of the highest efficiency, combining certainty with celerity—early and late, and all the time on the job.

Our increasing sales prove in the most conclusive manner that we are serving the public with the real stuff.

Very truly yours for good, hot weather,

The hardest job a man has sometimes is to get a good job.

Who's business is it to shut up the house at night, turn on the lights and wind up the clock?

Many a man who fancies that he knows it all couldn't explain how steam runs an engine.

Have you "scene" the new style Fall hats for the ladies? Some of them look like the scenery on a roof garden.

A Wilmington lady who bet her husband a dollar and lost, borrowed $5 from him so she could have it changed in order to pay him the dollar he won.

Senator Penrose declares this country is ready for war. The country, however, is satisfied that the Pennsylvania Senator isn't ready so's you can notice it.

The Mexican imbroglio is giving Senator Penrose an opportunity for making as much noise as it is possible for him to make in the way of gaining notoriety.

The rice bird is now gathering on a layer of yellow fat, but, considering the price, the grain eaters seem to be the toothsome morsel of the gourmet with an income that is big enough to be taxed.

The Progressives are now anxious to fuse with the Republicans so they can make Roosevelt a compromise candidate for President. That is a proposition to the Republicans to permit themselves to be absorbed.

Colonel Roosevelt fell out with President Taft about a mater of ammunition. He still refuses to speak o for speak to Taft. A man who is so narrow as that can't establish a party that will last as long as Populism.

Governor Foss, of Massachusetts, has changed his political views so often that he is liable to go to sleep a Republican and wake up a Democrat, or the reverse. No doubt he has to tell himself every morning how he stands on politics. He may know but nobody else does.

The Bull Moose candidate for Congress in the recent Maine election attributes his defeat to a lack of campaign funds. Then its principles are not so great as to make the people flock to it without price. The Bull Moose party got the smallest vote of all three parties because the people know there is nothing in it but third termism.

The Wilmington Star says: "If we had to go by the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, we would rather walk. During the past 14 weeks 429 people have been killed or injured in wrecks and accidents on that road." But you would be as apt to be run over walking the tracks as killed while riding in a car.—Jacksonville Times-Union.

"The Inside of the Cup" is the title of Winston Churchill's new book. It deals with social, religious and business standards and their relations to vice and poverty. It is a remarkable book and the story and its moral are more startling than entertaining. It is a revelation founded on fact, which, in a strange way, is used "to adorn a tale and point a moral."

The information that the number of abandoned families in this city is now larger than ever before and that the number is constantly increasing ought to serve to spur on officers of the law in trying to apprehend no account husbands and fathers and put them to work where there is somebody to see that they do work. Every case of abandonment should be reported promptly, for in our opinion there is no ordinary criminal more deserving of good, stiff punishment than the man who will leave a wife and children helpless, without means of support, and wholly dependent on charity. We ought to have some special arrangements for such men, so that they could be given a thorough course in labor and the value of it paid to their families.

HOW PORTS ARE BOTTLED UP.

It is a singular coincidence that the recent horrible accident, by which 21 lives were lost and many persons were injured, in the latest catastrophe on the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, should serve the purpose of showing how ports are bottled up by railroads, whether the ports have deep water or not.

Subsequent to the accident on the New Haven road, as it is called, Congressman Linthicum, of Baltimore, introduced in the House a resolution requesting President Wilson to take steps to ascertain the relationship existing between certain railroads and steamship companies. Representative Linthicum's resolution covered the following as the request to the President:

"To direct the Attorney General to transmit to the House what, if any, information he has respecting the inter-corporate relations of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Co., and the New England Navigation Co., the Hartford & New York Transportation Co., and the Merchants & Miners' Transportation Co., and the control by said railroad company of the said navigation and transportation companies; also, to transmit what, if any, information he has respecting the inter-corporate relations of the Pennsylvania Railroad Co., the Philadelphia, Baltimore & Washington Railroad Co., the Delaware Railroad, the Baltimore, Chesapeake & Atlantic Railway Co., and the Maryland, Delaware & Virginia Railway Co., and the control by the three first mentioned railroads of the two last mentioned railroads; also, to advise the House whether or not, under the act of July 2, 1890, proceedings to dissolve the relations of all said companies have been begun or are contemplated."

It is curious how quick Congressmen forget the results of investigations that long ago revealed the very information that the Maryland Congressman was after. Had he inquired of the Inter-State Commerce Commission he could have gotten exactly what he wanted to know. Indeed, it could have gotten all the information in print in Part IV of the "Report of the Commissioner of Corporations on Transportation by Water in the United States." That document is complete evidence of the extent to which regular coastwise shipping lines have been controlled by railroads or by consolidation under railroad domination.

However, it is said the Linthicum resolution is timely, for the reason that it is the first step taken since the commissioner's report to remedy the conditions which it exposed, viz: that the railroads were not only monopolizing rail traffic but were fast getting a line on coastwise steamship traffic. That was precisely the reason the Panama Canal bill, as passed by a Democratic Congress, shut out railroad controlled ships from passage through the canal. Referring to the Linthicum resolution, "Illustrated Shipping" makes this illuminating statement:

"It is understood that the resolution is the outgrowth of a fight begun by merchants of Baltimore and Washington against the Pennsylvania Railroad which practically dominates the local water traffic of Chesapeake Bay through its subsidiaries, the Baltimore, Chesapeake & Atlantic Railway and the Maryland, Delaware & Virginia Railway. These two railways own outright 29 steamers of about 20,000 tons gross, all engaged in local traffic. The extent of railroad domination in water traffic in and out of Chesapeake Bay is further shown by the fact that the Seaboard Air Line Railway controls the Baltimore Steam Packet Co., and the Southern Railway and Atlantic Coast Line Railroad together control the Chesapeake Steamship Co. Both of these lines operate on Chesapeake Bay between Baltimore and Norfolk. The Old Dominion Steamship Co., between New York and Norfolk, is controlled by the Atlantic Coast Line, Chesapeake & Ohio, Norfolk & Western, Southern and Seaboard Air Line Railways. The Virginia Navigation Co., from Norfolk to points on the James River is, in turn, controlled by the Old Dominion Steamship Co. The object of railroad control over domestic water carriers is threefold: First, to eliminate competition; second, to obtain an entrance into territory not open to their rail lines; and third, to secure valuable feeders, mainly local lines. A further important consideration is the extensive control exercised by railroads over water terminals at the principal ports of the country. This factor alone has been the means of greatly retarding the development of water traffic. It now remains to be seen how the present administration will deal with the problem of freeing the nation from the stranglehold maintained by the railroads upon its water-borne traffic, which situation could not have been made possible on such an extended seacoast as ours, except by such a law as that confining the coastwise trade to American-built vessels. This law is the keystone of the whole structure of monopolism in domestic transportation."

It seems that while the railroads were bottling up the ports, it was only possible to do so under some of the stupid Republican laws that were supposed to build up the "American merchant marine"—rather cooking its goose.

CHANGE THE GIN BOXES.

The protest made in Washington against the charge of $1 more per bale for transporting odd-sized bales of cotton than is the rate for carrying a standard bale seems to be futile. Many telegrams have been sent to Washington by cotton growers in the South complaining that they are being penalized for shipping bales larger than the standard size. The Department of Agriculture was appealed to in this matter, but it has advised the farmers that their best course is to insist that ginners immediately change their gin boxes to the required dimensions.

The traffic representatives of the steamship companies doing business with the South Atlantic and Gulf ports are responsible for the apparent discrimination against cotton bales that are not of the standard size. After many years of effort to induce the adoption of the standard bale, the shipping agents finally agreed that on and after September 1st, 1913, any bale packed in gin boxes of greater length or width than 27x54 inches shall pay an excess freight rate of $1 per bale. A number of ginners promptly ordered their gin boxes to conform to the new regulations, but others paid no attention to it, with the result that the farmers are the losers and not the ginners. It is strange how the loss always goes back to the producers, but it almost invariably does.

The Agricultural Department could do nothing but give advice, and the Inter-State Commerce Commission finds itself equally without power to do anything but suggest to the steamship companies that they delay a month in enforcing collection of the dollar penalty, in order to give the remaining ginners time to effect the necessary change. It is difficult to say, however, what the steamship companies will do as they will lose practically $1 a bale on all cotton shipped during the month. The ships cannot load their holds to full capacity when cotton bales are not of uniform size.

The necessity of standardizing the cotton bale has been urged at least twenty years, and now that it is the ginning season, it is an inopportune time to be changing the cotton press boxes. However, it may as well be done, else the cotton growers will lose several million dollars.

Manufacturers of cotton presses ought to conform to the standard and not sell any more presses of the odd size that causes the loss to fall on either the farmers or the steamship companies.

USEFUL EDUCATION.

Not a long while ago we published several enlightening communications from Mr. C. R. Speight, of Pender county; Mr. D. L. Gore, of New Hanover, and possibly others, on the subject of education along practical and useful lines. There was much in all the communications that we should like to see embraced in our scheme of common school education. Defects in our present system of education were pointed out and practical ideas were suggested looking to a remedy. In time, these ideas and suggestions will bear fruit and we shall hail the day with delight.

Just at present it is gratifying to see a revival of interest in this important subject. A thoughtful, practical, intensely earnest Wilmington business man is quoted as saying in his opinion that this is one of the most important subjects now before the people of the city and county. The need, he conceives, to be for education in the trades rather than in the professions; the teaching of the boy or girl those things that will be useful to them in after lives—technical training in the useful arts for the boys, domestic science and household economics for the girls. He's everlastingly right. The call was never more insistent for competent men in the trades and the remuneration is far and above that ordinarily held out in the professions. The time has come when the dignity of labor is being appreciated and paid for other than in mere expression on the printed page. Good workmen, sober and industrious, were never better paid and provided with working conditions better than at present or than is contemplated in the general scheme of our future social conditions.

The gentleman quoted would have the Y. M. C. A., the Boys' Brigade or one of the public schools here in Wilmington equipped with lathe and tools where the boy could enlist in learning a useful trade and he would encourage in every way possible the teaching of domestic science in the schools. The start could be made in a small way. Some capitalist could serve his generation no better than to endow a movement of this kind to such an extent that it would be taken beyond the experimental stage. Once established such a branch of our school education would become a permanency. We should like to see it come to pass.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The dismemberment of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railroad proved a blow to commercial and industrial progress throughout a great section of this State and proved a disadvantage to a still larger section. The investigation began shows that this was by agreement among three railroads which bought up the property. The General Assembly will be warranted in any steps it takes to undo what has been done.—Raleigh News and Observer.

One of our exchanges says there are too many little farmers in Bladen county. That may be true, but we'll bet a crop of English sparrows that there are entirely too many big land owners in Bladen. Small farms, well cultivated, are essential to the development of every community. Union county owes its successful and rapid progress in agricultural lines to the fact that so large a per cent of its citizens own their homes. Big land owners are a curse to any country. There are a few men in this county who are land poor—they have too much.—Marshville Home.

Liverpool has just completed a dry-dock 1,050 feet long, 155 feet wide and having an entrance 120 feet across. The port directors of Boston have planned a dock 100 feet longer than the Liverpool dock and of approximately the same width. Glasgow is now building a dock just as long, and Quebec is planning for one of the same size. This would indicate a general expectation that the present tendency toward bigger and ever bigger ships will be kept up, and the probabilities are that it will, for a time at least. But what of the enormously accelerated expense of providing the channel and harbor facilities necessary for the accommodation of such huge leviathans? To the latter there must be, and is, a limit, though there may be none to the size of the ships which the marine constructors are capable of turning out.—Norfolk Virginian-Pilot.

The proposition that the sale of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley railroad to the Southern and the Atlantic Coast Line is void because of the dismemberment and division of the road, in disobedience of the mandate of the court and contrary to the terms of the deed of transfer, relates vitally to the business for which the General Assembly of North Carolina has been called into extraordinary session by Governor Craig. It may be a vital factor in every method that has been proposed for dealing with the matter of unjust and discriminatory freight tariffs. There is, for instance, the proposal that a steamer line be established to ply between Wilmington and Northern points. This might be of material advantage to Wilmington; but outbound traffic from the interior would have to reach Wilmington via a non-competing railway, and inbound goods would have to be distributed from Wilmington over non-competing lines. The C. F. & Y. V. was built expressly as a competing line and by reason of its location is fitted almost ideally to serve the entire State in this capacity. It traverses the State from the mountains to the sea, connecting with the State's only port. Its western end could readily be extended into the coal fields, a fact of greatly increased significance by reason of the completion of the Panama Canal. It crosses every trunk line in the State. If the court should order a resale of this property the transaction would be subjected to the closest scrutiny. The old feeling of helplessness no longer exists. It would have been demonstrated that the attempt to nullify the work of the people of North Carolina who aided in the construction of what they supposed was to be a competitive railroad, was unprofitable. The property would hardly attract any buyers except such as might wish to acquire the property in good faith.—Greensboro News.

THE DEEP WELLS.

To the Editor of The Star:

Please advise the City Council and citizens of Wilmington that it is bosh to experiment with deep wells for a small place like Wilmington. For $50 you can send your city engineer to Memphis, Tenn., and let him see a modern deep well pumping plant supplying water to a city of 130,000 people. There they use absolutely clean drinking water to wash the streets, fight fires and fight sickness. Memphis' deep wells run the death rate down to 11 and the population from 60,000 to 130,000 in the past 20 years. If the city doesn't want to go to so much expense to see a big deep well pumping plant, then the whole bunch can come to Lingo City for 10 cents each and see a modern 72,000 gallon plant which is only one well 95 feet deep supplying water for Lingo City, which, while not as large as Wilmington quite, the death rate is a minus quantity. Only one person ever died in Lingo City and the cause was from looking into the business end of a Colt's. Put down 15 wells 10 feet apart, move your pumping station to the wells, wash our your dirty, filthy water mains with clean, pure water and supply them everlastingly with plenty of fresh, clean, drinking water such as is gotten from the deep well at Lingo City. Come to Lingo City and I will show you how to supply the city of Wilmington with pure drinking water.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH.

To the Editor of The Star:

Councilman Merritt is reported as having said at a meeting of the City Council yesterday that if the Board of Health would stop interfering with him good results would be secured in future.

He seems to have forgotten that it is attributable to interference by the Board of Health that an old system of mismanagement in the work he now has charge of was broken up.

He seems also to have overlooked the fact that State laws require the Board of Health to interfere and that their chief business is to interfere.

From the action of the City Council this morning it looks as if the Board of Health should be called upon to interfere again and promptly if Wilmington is to continue to progress and not relapse into its former state of deadness.

Does the public wish the Board of Health to stop its interference?

I think not. CITIZEN.

FATHER DIED SUDDENLY.

Aged Parent of Mrs. W. G. Hall Passed Away at Plymouth Yesterday.

Mrs. Hall, wife of Rev. W. G. Hall, pastor of the Southside Baptist church, received a telegram yesterday afternoon, stating that her father, Mr. W. H. Stubbs, died suddenly at his home at Plymouth yesterday afternoon of heart trouble. Mr. Hall and family leave this morning on the 3:40 train for Plymouth, to attend the funeral. He was 72 years old, and is survived by his wife, two daughters and four sons. One son, Mr. W. S. Stubbs, lives in Wilmington. He and his wife also leave this morning to attend the funeral. In the absence of Mr. Hall, his pulpit at Southside Baptist church will be filled Sunday by Rev. W. M. Craig, assistant pastor of the First Baptist church.

Wilmington's New Beach.

Yesterday's Charlotte Chronicle: "It seems that after all Wilmington's new beach is to be rapidly developed. A large number of lots have been sold there to prospective cottagers and now with an Atlanta syndicate practically assuring the erection of a new hotel of 400 rooms and all modern conveniences and appointments and a good highway and electric line also assured the new beach promises to claim its share of patronage even next Summer. This, however, will not hurt Wrightsville Beach because there is enough patronage for each. Wrightsville was so crowded during the last season that accommodations could not be furnished all who came."

SORE, ITCHING FEET.

After Fourteen Years of Torture, Cured by Saxo Salve.

Martin Keane, Rockingham Hotel, Absecon, N. J., says: "Having suffered for about 14 years with the most terrible itching and burning sensation of my feet, it is almost impossible to describe my sufferings. Singular to say, that all of my sufferings occurred from the moment I removed my shoes and stockings at night. I had to scratch until the skin was broken before I could get relief. Frequently I had large sores on my insteps for days. It has never appeared on any other portion of my body only my insteps and around my ankles. A fifty cent package of your Saxo Salve, has I hope, permanently cured me, as I have no more itching. Its action is instantaneous."

In all forms of skin disease the antiseptic, healing properties of Saxo Salve penetrates the skin and destroys the germs of disease.

Try Saxo Salve on our guarantee to return your money if it does not help you.—Robt. R. Bellamy, druggist, Wilmington, N. C.

THIS LADY OBEYED HUSBAND

In Matter Where Her Happiness Was at Stake, and is Mighty Glad She Did.

Sheldon, S. C.—In advices from this town, Mrs. J. B. Marvin writes as follows: "For more than three years, I suffered with womanly troubles, and none of the different treatments I underwent, seemed to do me any good.

"I also had pains in my left side, so bad at times, I could hardly get up.

"My husband told me to buy some Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I did. I started taking it, and soon began to feel better. I took only a few bottles, and now I am perfectly well, and able to do anything.

"Cardui has done me a world of good. It certainly cured me of the trouble I had and I am getting along nicely.

"I have recommended the remedy to other sufferers, and they have all been benefitted by it.

"I will always keep Cardui in my home for use in time of need."

Cardui is a purely vegetable remedy, containing no harmful mineral products. Its ingredients act in a helping, building way, on the womanly constitution. It has been relieving womanly troubles, for over half a century, during which time, it has proven of more than ordinary value as a tonic for weak women.

You can rely on Cardui. It will do for you, what it has done for thousans of others. It will help you. Begin to take Cardui today.

YOUNG WIFE'S PATHETIC PLEA

Mrs. B. J. Cottle Begs Judge Rountree to Change Road Sentence Imposed on Her Husband to Fine—Court Scene.

Sobbing as if her heart would break, Mrs. Cottle, the beautiful young wife of Ben J. Cottle, a druggist, appeared before Judge Rountree in Superior Court yesterday afternoon and pleaded with him as only a woman can that her husband be given just one more chance. She pleaded and begged that the sentence of 12 months imposed on him be changed to a fine. The situation was painful no less to the court than to the young woman and all in the court room were deeply touched by the scene.

The court could stand it no longer and asked that the young woman be taken from the court room. As she turned away in utter despair, Judge Rountree offered her one ray of hope when he said that he would later think over her request. She brightened up instantly and though still giving vent to her deep emotions in the way usually employed by the gentler sex, she left the court room apparently flushed with a gleam of hope which she understood to be contained in the promise of the court.

Mrs. Cottle was accompanied to the judge's desk by Wm. J. Bellamy, Esq., who appeared for her husband. He later renewed the pleadings for a change in the judgment, but Judge Rountree declined to disturb the sentence. He said that he would gladly do anything he could to help the innocent sufferers in the case—the woman and her two children—but felt that he could not alter the judgment, which had already been made as light as he could possibly bring himself to believe it should be in view of the defiant attitude that had been assumed by the defendant toward law and order. Though deeply affected by the pleadings of the young wife and showing plainly that he would like to aid her in this trying hour, Judge Rountree remained unmoved in his determination to send the young man to the roads, which decision had evidently been reached only after careful consideration of all the facts in the case.

Cottle himself is deeply penitent and is willing to make any kind of promise as to his future conduct if given the opportunity. He was overwhelmed with surprise when Judge Rountree announced the sentence and he could not control his feelings which found manifestation in the shedding of copious tears. There was little sympathy for him, personally, however, but all felt for those on whom the burden in such cases usually falls—the wife and children.

There were two cases on the docket against Cottle. One charged violation of the prohibition law in that he sold alcoholic beverages and the other running a disorderly house, it having been alleged that in the rear of his drug store at Eighth and Castle streets large crowds, both white and colored, would congregate, gamble and create general disorder. He entered a plea of guilty to both charges. These cases had been on the docket since Judge Carter was here the last time. Since then other cases had been started in the Recorder's court against Cottle and his clerk and also against a large number of whites and blacks who gathered in his store to gamble. The gamblers submitted in the Recorder's court and paid the amount assessed against them. The Recorder left open the cases against Cottle until today, probably waiting to ascertain the disposition of the cases in Superior Court before announcing judgment in those before him.

Cottle formerly bore an excellent reputation and had a wide circle of friends. He is a druggist and for some time held a position with one of the leading downtown drug stores as prescription clerk. It was while clerking in this store two years ago last August that he displayed such heroism that won for him a medal and $1,000 in cash from the Carnegie Hero Commission. The fact that Morris M. Caldwell, Jr., the bright little son of Dr. and Mrs. M. M. Caldwell is alive today is probably due to the bravery displayed by Mr. Cottle on this occasion. At breakneck speed the horse of Dr. Caldwell came dashing down Market street. In the buggy attached to the animal was Morris M. Caldwell, Jr. The horse crossed Front street and was headed directly for the river. Several persons had tried in vain to stop the mad animal. Realizing the peril of the child and without a thought of the risk of his own life, Cottle jumped out in front of the speeding animal, caught the reins and held on until he brought the horse to a stop about midway the block. The child escaped without a scratch. The bravery of the young man was brought to the attention of the Carnegie Hero Commission and a medal and cash prize was awarded him.

Whether the award had anything to do with it or not it is a fact that soon thereafter there were heard reports that Cottle, who had gone into business for himself in the meanwhile, was not living strictly up to the prohibition law and the persons who frequented his place were for the most part of the sort that "hang" around a low dive. The police department, under Chief Fowler's administration, began to search for evidence with a view of stopping any illegal traffic in the place and to punish the violations. After a time enough evidence was secured to base the cases in which submissions were entered yesterday. The cases were continued once or twice and Cottle continued to do business. About two weeks ago Mayor Moore and Justice Harriss, having received so many complaints from the place, set to work to rout the crowd that frequented the store. They put Special Officer Godwin on the case with the result that Cottle was arrested in two cases, cases were brought against his clerk and about 30 frequenters, both white and colored, were arrested for gambling. These cases, as stated, were disposed of in the Recorder's court or are still pending there.

In passing sentence on Cottle Judge Rountree remarked that he had in mind giving him one, two or three years on the roads. After hearing the plea of his attorney and out of consideration for the wife and two small children he would make the sentence one year. Further leniency was sought by Mr. Bellamy for his client, but Judge Rountree thought that in view of the young man's record he had shown him every consideration possible and still uphold the majesty of the law.

The Cottle case presented to Judge Rountree the most trying situation that he has encountered since he became judge. He stated yesterday that the case had been giving him great concern ever since Monday. He would have liked to let the defendant off with a fine and prayer for judgment continued, and would have most likely had the defendant any respect

REGULAR MONTHLY MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce was held in rooms of the Chamber yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Following the reading of the minutes of the last meeting, Mr. M. W. Jacobi introduced resolutions of respect in honor of the memory of a former president of the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. James H. Chadbourn, who died last week, which were adopted by a rising vote. Mr. B. F. Keith introduced a resolution asking that New Hanover's representatives in the General Assembly be requested to do all in their power to secure a State-wide stock law which was adopted by a unanimous vote.

Mr. Jacobi paid a beautiful tribute to the memory of Mr. Chadbourn, whom he stated he knew from his boyhood. He spoke of his activity in public affairs and his willingness to give freely of his time, no matter how busy he might be, to advance the interests of this city and section. One of the points in his life which Mr. Jacobi especially admired was his regular habits. When he said that he would be at a place at a given time he could be depended upon to be there. He set a worthy example, and the community in his death lost one of its most useful citizens.

The resolution in honor of his memory was read by the secretary, Mr. H. B. Branch, and is as follows:

"Resolved, That in the death of Past President James H. Chadbourn, the Chamber of Commerce loses one of its most valuable and useful members, who was ever active in working for its interests and that of our community. His sterling qualities and efforts to uplift and benefit mankind are worthy of emulation.

"He will indeed be missed, but his works will live after him. We extend to his family our heartfelt sympathy in this, their sad hour, and pray that the Almighty will comfort and console them.

"Be it resolved that a blank page in our minute book be inscribed to his memory and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to his family.

"COL. WALKER TAYLOR,
"Committee."

Following the adoption of this resolution by a rising vote, Mr. Branch read Mr. Keith's resolution regarding the State-wide stock law which was adopted unanimously without discussion. The resolution is as follows:

"We, the members of the Chamber of Commerce, assembled, do respectfully request that our representatives in the Legislature do all they can to give us the stock law;

"First—For the entire State; if cannot be had for the entire State, so much of it as can be secured. This Chamber has gone on record several times endorsing it, with no results, and we are now suffering, owing to the ill effects of the stock law not being operative in the counties adjacent to New Hanover.

"Second—It is equally as hazardous to the farmers in the adjoining counties, where stock cannot be shipped into this market, as it is to the citizens, who would be benefitted if they could rely upon the bordering counties for their meat supply as well as milk and butter, and we earnestly request that every man who looks to the future and who does not live to himself alone, shall render all assistance for the protection of the forest and farms, which means easier living for all those who, directly or indirectly, are dependent upon same.

"Third—If any person doubts what the stock law will do for a county, we invite him to New Hanover that he may see for himself, which observation will be greater reason than anyone can give."

The executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce reported the following new members: In class B, Messrs. Benjamin Miller and I. W. Cooper and the Cape Fear Hotel Company; in class C. Messrs. William H. Baxley and R. F. Warren.

WORK ON UPPER CAPE FEAR

Dredging for Cofferdams at King's Bluff Has Been Completed—Material for Building Locks and Dam Received.

The dredging has been completed for the cofferdams being erected at King's Bluff preliminary to the building of locks and a dam at that point to aid in securing a mean depth of eight feet of water in the Cape Fear river from Wilmington to Fayetteville, according to the monthly report for August made by Capt. Ridley, who has charge of the canalization project, to the United States engineer office, Maj. H. W. Stickle in charge. Borings are also being made at Brown's Landing preliminary to beginning work at that point on the erection of locks and dam No. 2.

The work of dredging by the dredge Ajax for the cofferdams was completed on August 27th, and the amount of material removed during the month was 9,312 cubic yards. A uniform depth of 16.5 feet was secured. On August 28th the Ajax was moved to a point in front of King's Bluff and began dredging sand for use in the concrete work. The sand is being screened, so that it will not have to be handled again, and then placed in a storage bin.

As soon as the dredging of sand is finished the cofferdam pockets will be filled with clay, and the Ajax will then go to Pridgen's Landing to dredge the shoal there after which she will return to Wilmington.

One of the pile drivers began driving steel piling in the gap at the lower end of the river on August 27th, and for the remaining three days there were 24 steel piles driven. They are being put down to keep the gap from shoaling. The other pile driver used on the improvement began driving foundation piles on the 29th. Both these pile drivers are now at work, and will continue until all the piles are driven.

The first shipment of lumber consisting of 82,403 feet, which will be used in building the dam, was received on August 14th. The first shipment of cement composed of 3,000 barrels, arrived on the 19th. During the month of August there were 24 steel piles, 10 pine piles and 79 pine piles placed. There were 9,312 cubic yards of material removed from the cofferdam and 341 yards of sand dredged by the Ajax.

All the preliminary work to building locks and dam No. 1 will soon be completed. This is being put in at King's Bluff, 39 miles above Wilmington. Borings are being made at Brown's landing, 72 miles above Wilmington, and two miles below Elizabethtown, and it is expected that work on locks and dam No. 2 will begin within a few months.

The object of the locks and dams is to secure a uniform depth of eight feet of water from Wilmington to Fayetteville.

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

Emma Sikes, Colored, Sent to County Farm for Three Months.

Hampton Divine, colored, was again before the Recorder yesterday, this time on the charge of violating the prohibition law. He was acquitted Wednesday of a charge of taking $11 belonging to Ed Wilton, and was immediately re-arrested on a charge of having sold the same man a half pint of whiskey. According to evidence yesterday he was given 35 cents by Wilton to get some whiskey which he purchased from Emma Sikes, colored, and brought back to Wilton. The case was nol prossed.

A search and seizure warrant was sworn out Wednesday, and Plainclothesman D. W. Coleman searched the home of Emma Sikes and found about a gallon of "spirits." She was sentenced yesterday to serve three months on the county farm.

Walter Murray, colored, was found not guilty of a charge of larceny. He and Adel King, colored, were arrested a few days ago on a charge of the larceny of a package of silver spoons from the home of Mr. G. T. Flynn last February. The case against the King woman was nol prossed several days ago.

Funeral of Mrs. Dempsey.

Requiem mass for the repose of the soul of the late Mrs. J. B. Dempsey, whose sad death occurred on Wednesday afternoon at the family home in this city, will be said at St. Mary's pro-Cathedral this morning at 10 o'clock, Rev. Father C. Dennen being the celebrant. The interment will be in Oakdale cemetery. Absent members of the family arrived yesterday from Augusta, Ga., and these with many friends in Wilmington will attend the service at St. Mary's.

COW ORDINANCE AMENDED

Council Would Restore Rights of Citizens to Keep Cows on Premises, Near Dwellings—Board of Health Says Nay.

The ordinance adopted two years ago prohibiting the keeping of cows within 50 feet of any dwelling, was amended by the City Council in special session yesterday morning so as to permit them to be kept within 10 feet of a residence.

The County Board of Health in the afternoon adopted a resolution declining to concur with the Council in amending the ordinance and insisting that the Board of Health alone has the right to alter any existing ordinances of the city pertaining to health and sanitary conditions.

Dr. Nesbitt, the superintendent, was instructed to write the City Council a communication, setting forth in detail the reasons why the regulation was adopted two years ago and stating also something of the improvement that has been brought about in the handling of the local milk supply as a result of the enforcement of the measure.

City Council will hold a special meeting at 11 o'clock this morning for the consideration of the matter of sewer connections, which it is said, are being made contrary to the health regulations, and the communication from Dr. Nesbitt with regard to the cow ordinance will likely be before the body for consideration.

The special meeting of the City Council was held at 10:30 A. M., Mayor Moore presiding and Councilmen Jones, Merritt and Wood in attendance, also City Attorney Bryan. Councilman Loughlin was busy at that hour renting market spaces and Councilman Chadwick was also prevented from being present on account of another engagement. Councilman Wood had been summoned to Wilmington from Southport by telegraph. The meeting was a brief one, some say the briefest on record. The purpose of the meeting was stated by Councilman Jones at whose instance the meeting had been called by Mayor Moore. The purpose, he stated, was to amend the cow ordinance and he offered the following resolution, which had been signed by himself and Councilmen Wood and Merritt:

"Be it ordained by the Council of the City of Wilmington:

"That section 28, of the Revised Ordinances of the City of Wilmington, be and the same is hereby amended by striking out the word 'fifty,' in line four of said section, and substituting the word 'ten' in lieu thereof."

The effect of the amendment is to nullify the purpose of the ordinance. If allowed to stand it would mean that the ban on cows has been lifted and that they may be kept almost anywhere in the city.

Board of Health.

Knowing that in the act of the last Legislature consolidating the city and county health departments is a provision to the effect that all health and sanitary laws and regulations then on the statute books of the city should remain in full force and effect until changed or altered by the County Board of Health and desiring to let the people know just what they may expect in regard to keeping cows in the city before any arrangements are made to bring the cows back into the city under the assumption that the Council has a right in the premises, Chairman Willard called a meeting of the health board for 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon:

Every member was present. Chairman Willard read the act of the Legislature bearing on this question, after which a resolution was adopted to the effect that the Board of Health declined to concur in the action of the Council, and further, that the Board of Health has sole power in changing or making health regulations. Dr. Nesbitt made a statement in which he told of the reasons why the ordinance was originally adopted and spoke of the great improvement that has been wrought in the handling of the milk supply as a result. He was instructed to embody this information in a communication to the City Council and was enjoined by the chairman to not "let the newspapers get hold of it before the Council receives it, if the Council wants to give out the statement all well and good."

Why Council Acted.

Explaining why the City Council took action on the question, Councilman Jones last night issued the following statement:

"Several interested parties called me up yesterday afternoon and complained that they had been notified by the sanitary police that a city ordinance, passed about two years ago and never enforced, and which prohibits the keeping of cows within 50 feet of a residence, would henceforth be rigidly enforced. These parties suggested that a special meeting of Council be called to amend, or repeal, said ordinance. I suggested that the parties telephone other members of Council, which I am informed they did. This morning, Mr. Wood came to my office and advised me that some one had wired him to come up for a special meeting of Council this morning. We 'phoned the Mayor and asked that the meeting be called for 11 o'clock. The Mayor stated that he would call it for 10:30 o'clock, which was done.

"I offered the amendment to Section 28, so as to relieve citizens from the enforcement of an ordinance that had never been enforced and had become obsolete. Never having enforced this ordinance, I presumed that the health authorities never considered it important.

Has Legal Right.

"Although I have not recently read the act creating the joint Health Board, the City Council, in my opinion, clearly has the legal right to repeal or amend any ordinance passed by that body. It is equally clear to me that the County Board of Health has the power to make such health regulations as that body may see fit, but if any restrictions are to be placed upon keeping cows near residences in the city, the health authorities, and not the City Council, should assume responsibility for making and enforcing such regulations."

SUNDAY SCHOOL LECTURE.

Mr. M. W. Brabham Will Speak at Bladen Street Church Tonight.

Mr. M. W. Brabham, Sunday School field secretary of the North Carolina Methodist Conference, will deliver an address on Sunday School work tonight at 8 o'clock at Bladen Street Methodist church. The teachers and officers of the Sunday School are urged to attend as well as others who may be interested in Sunday School work. Mr. Brabham has made a special study of methods of Sunday School work, and his address will be highly instructive. He is a pleasing speaker, and his lectures have been heard with the greatest interest at a number of the churches in the Wilmington district during the past ten days.

ATTACHMENT PROCEEDINGS.

American National Bank Institutes Suit for Recovery of $4,500.

The American National Bank yesterday in Superior Court instituted attachment proceedings against C. R. Humphreys, C. L. B. Anderson, J. L. VonGlahn and C. D. Weeks for the collection of a loan of $4,300, which it is alleged that these persons owe the bank for money advanced. The affidavits were sworn to by Mr. Thos. E. Cooper, vice president of the bank. It is contended that some of the defendants have moved from the State, and are now residing in Maryland.

It is also contended that the defendants who have moved away have property in this State in the hands of J. L. Becton, C. D. Weeks, W. K. Allen and the Rocky Point Drainage District, of which M. F. H. Gouverneur is secretary and W. B. Brown is treasurer. Under the summons as issued these persons are ordered to appear in Superior Court, October 20th, and show what amount of property they have in their possession which is owned by the defendants, otherwise judgment will be docketed.

GIVEN MAXIMUM SENTENCE

Albert Highsmith Sent to State Prison for 30 Years—Batch of Indictments Against Persons Who Failed to List.

The maximum penalty for second degree murder was yesterday imposed upon Albert Highsmith, colored, who was convicted in Superior Court late Wednesday afternoon of the charge of killing Julius Sumpter, also colored, with whom he boarded. Judge Rountree took occasion to remark that the negro should feel thankful that he escaped the electric chair, as under the evidence the jury would have been justified in returning a verdict of guilty in the first degree.

If there were any who doubted that the grand jury would be called upon to indict those who had failed to list their taxes this doubt was entirely removed yesterday when probably two hundred indictments were returned by the jury against as many citizens of the county, some among the leading men of the city.

A great many people learned yesterday that indictments had been brought against them and hastened to the Court House to pay the amount of the taxes and the costs before capiases were issued. Maj. W. N. Harriss, Clerk of Superior Court, stated last night that capiases would likely be issued today, and that those who would save this additional cost had better call at the Court House this morning and make settlement. It will cost those indicted just $7.25, if they settle before caplas is issued. If the cost of the capiases is added, the amount will be $9.25. So early action will mean the saving of $2.

When Judge Rountree passed sentence upon Albert Highsmith, colored, who was found guilty of second degree murder Wednesday, he asked the prisoner to stand up, and told the defendant that he should thank his lawyer and a merciful jury for the fact that he was not being sent to the electric chair as, under the evidence, the jury could easily have returned a verdict of murder in the first degree. The court expressed the opinion that the murder was a most cold-blooded one, for which he might easily have been made to pay the death penalty.

The court stated that he would be given the full limit allowed by the statute, which is 30 years in the State prison.

Judge Rountree said he hoped that his experience might prove to be a warning to other people who are accustomed to using pistols recklessly. Judge Rountree again made vigorous comment on the evils of vagrancy, whiskey and pistol cardying.

Henry Singleton, a negro boy, who was convicted of simple assault on a white girl, was called, but the judge said he would postpone sentence until later.

The next cases called were the boys implicated in the Delgado robberies. The court expressed the opinion that all the boys had lied about each other and the circumstances surrounding the cases. It was evident, the judge thought, that a gang had been in existence which should be broken up. It had been shown that Wesley Hamilton had escaped from the road where he was serving a term of six months, and the court was of the opinion that some county officer had neglected his duty. Deputy Sheriff Kelly called attention to the fact that the escape had never been reported to the Sheriff's office.

Hamilton was given two years in the State prison, and John Skipper 12 months on the roads. Sentence was not pronounced in the case against Edwin Fryar, a 14-year-old boy, as the court did not know just what to do, in view of his youth. A letter has been written to the reformatory at Concord, and it is not likely that any disposition of this case will be made until a reply is received.

Several attorneys made pleas for the boys, but the court thought that the store breakings had gone on long enough, and that something ought to be done towards breaking it up.

In a civil action entitled Wilmington Slate and Metal Roofing Co. vs. O. Pearsall, 30 days was given in which to file judgment. The plaintiff is represented by K. C. Sidbury, Esq., and the defendants by Greer & Greer.

In a case against Nellie Russell, charged with keeping a bawdy house, judgment was suspended upon payment of the costs.

Practically all the afternoon session was taken up with the trial of Foster Simpson, colored, charged with attempted criminal assault on Daisy McMillan, a colored girl. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty, and Simpson, who has been in jail for 40 days, was discharged.

Mrs. Lanie Bell Cowan was granted a divorce from her husband, Sam. Cowan.

The case in which R. M. Bryant is charged with seduction, was continued until the next term.

Ella Haynes, colored, entered a plea of guilty to a charge of bigamy, and judgment was suspended, upon payment of the costs.

The grand jury returned not a true bill in an indictment that had been drafted against Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt, county superintendent of health, and the members of the County Board of Health, charging that they "committed and permitted a public nuisance to exist and continue for a long space of time offensive sanitary cans in which human excrement and refuse was deposited, and very offensive in odor, to be carried through the public streets of the city of Wilmington, N. C., during the day time to the common nuisance of the good citizens of said city and State."

The grand jury also failed to find a true bill in an indictment brought against the City of Wilmington in which it was charged that the city of Wilmington had committed a public nuisance in that it permitted Macomber's ditch or drain between Market and Dock streets in said city to have and contain stagnant water therein offensive in odor and there remain for a long space of time, to the common nuisance of the good citizens of said city and State."

at all for law and order. Even after he had two cases in court he opened his place and continued openly and flagrantly to violate the law. His place was the assembling ground for the toughest element in the city. Judge Rountree remarked upon the fact that Cottle was present at the last term of court and possibly at the term prior and heard the remarks from the bench that the law must be upheld in this community and would be, yet after securing continuance of his case, he went off and deliberately and began the flagrant violations again. Had he have stopped there and come into court at this term and entered a plea of guilty and thrown himself on the mercy of the court, his punishment would have been light. He failed to make the best of the opportunity afforded him between the courts, but used it to get deeper into trouble.

Judge Rountree heard statements ments from County Solicitor Peschau and others as to the reputation of the place conducted by Cottle and of the complaints that had been received of disorder at the store. He then announced that hard as it was he would have to send the young man to the roads.

The court directed that the officer take Cottle by his home to tell his wife and children good-bye before going to the roads to begin his sentence. Cottle left the court room immediately for his home in the custody of Constable J. H. Davis. The scene at home was a most touching one. After bidding his loved ones good-bye Cottle was taken to the county jail, where he spent the afternoon and last night. Unless Judge Rountree should change his mind, which is altogether improbable, Cottle will likely be sent to the roads this morning to begin his term.

That Mrs. Cottle is hopeful that the judge will relent and pay heed to her plea is evidenced by the fact that she informed her husband last night that while Judge Rountree was not at first disposed to listen to her that he finally remarked that he would take up consideration of the request later. Cottle himself is hopeful and stated to his wife that probably on a second visit His Honor will view the case in a different light.

There is, however, but very little hope in reality for Cottle to escape the road term. Judge Rountree feels that he is giving him now less than he deserves and is only making the sentence as light as one year because of his wife and children, who will bear the brunt of the suffering.

In her pleas to the court Mrs. Cottle stated that her husband was a good man and had always treated her with the kindest consideration. It would kill her, she said, for him to have to go to the roads. Begging for her sake, for God's sake to give her husband the opportunity to begin life anew, to change the sentence to a fine, she plead as long as the court could stand to listen to her. Then she left the court room with just a wee ray of hope gleaming in her tear-stained eyes.

THE GREAT MAJESTIC RANGE

Isn't it the truth?

Every housewife spends by far the most of her time in the kitchen, and least of her time in the parlor, yet, it's surprising, how many have a $500.00 piano in the parlor and a cheap, worn-out cook stove in the kitchen.

Now, is your kitchen a pleasant place for you, or does that old, worn-out range or stove give you as much trouble as ever? If so, why not eliminate all this worry, bother and needless expense by putting in a

COTTON MARKET LESS ACTIVE

Irregular Fluctuations Created the Impression That Sentiment Had Become Divided as to Immediate Course.

New York, Sept. 11.—The cotton market was much less feverish today, and fluctuations were irregular enough to create an impression in some circles that sentiment had become rather more divided as to the immedate course of the market. The further rains reported in the Southwest were accompanied by conflicting reports as to their effect on the crop outlook, some claiming that they had beaten out open cotton, while others said they had they had checked deterioration and would help to fill out the bolls, with the result of new growth depending upon a favorable Autumn and a late Winter.

There was little change in crop reports from the Eastern belt, and while there appears to be a tendency in certain quarters to modify extremely bullish views of the yield, today's selling seemed to reflect reports of an easier turn in Eastern belt spot markets, and the increasing movement rather than any general change of sentiment regarding ultimate supplies and requirements. Closing prices were 3 or 4 points up from the lowest on covering, with the tone steady, at net decline of 1 to 8 points.

There was a renewal of yesterday's buying movement at the opening, and with the cables considerable better than due, first prices here were 8 to 13 points higher. Realizing and scattered selling from local, foreign and Southern sources soon sent the market off to a shade under the closing figures of last night, but there seemed to be good buying on the setbacks and prices rallied again to nearly the initial figures.

Offerings then increased on reports of a poor demand for ocean freights from New Orleans, and private wires from Eastern belt sections predicting that cotton would soon move toward New York, should spot business fail to improve, and active months sold 7 to 11 points net lower, or back to practically the low level of yesterday afternoon on December and later positions. October was relatively steady, as though influenced by the small local stock.

Spot cotton, quiet. Middling uplands, 13.15; do. gulf, 13.40. Sales, none.

Futures closed steady.

THE WHEAT MARKET

The Close Was Weak—Corn Suffered a Net Decline—Oats Fnished at a Low Figure, and Provisions Were Off Also.

Chicago, Sept. 11.—Assertions that tariff changes affecting grain importations from Canada need not wait for the assembling of Parliament in January, but may be put in force at any weekly meeting of the Dominion Cabinet, had a bearish effect on the wheat market here today.

The close was weak, ⅞ to 1⅛@1c. under last night.

Corn suffered a net decline of 1⅛@1¼ to 1⅞@1⅞.

Oats finished ⅞ to 1⅛c. down and provisions were off 7½ to 25 cents.

PAJAMA-CLAD GUESTS SCARED.

Explosion of Steam Pipe in Newbern Hotel Woke 'Em Up.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Newbern, N. C., Sept. 11.—When a large pipe leading from the boiler to the radiators burst at the Gaston Hotel at an early hour Wednesday morning, pandemonium reigned supreme at this popular hostelry and many of the guests spent the remainder of the night in sleeplessness.

Late Tuesday afternoon the temperature began to fall and it became necessary a short time later to have some heat in the building and the steam from the boiler was turned into the 100 or more radiators. All went well until a few minutes before 1 o'clock on the following morning when suddenly and without the least warning, there was a deafening crash. The breaking of falling glass was heard and then a deathly silence. Many guests who had been awakened rushed from their rooms clad only in their night clothing and excitedly inquired the cause of the trouble.

The clerk, as soon as the explosion occurred, ran below and found that the steam pipe had burst and that the basement was flooded with water. The excitement soon subsided and the damage repaired. Fortunately no one was injured and the damage done was comparatively slight.

The explosion was heard for several blocks and many peopie were awakened.

North Carolina to be Brought to Front Again—Wilmington Committee.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Charlotte, N. C., Sept. 11.—North Carolina is to be brought to the front again this year in the sale of the Red Cross Christmas Seals. These seals are decorative little stickers or stamps to be placed on Christmas packages and other mail during the holiday season.

Each year a new design is put on the market, and the seal has been sold generally over the United States for the past nine years.

All the money received from the sale of these seals goes to fight tuberculosis, otherwise known as the Great White Plague. Ninety per cent of the funds will be expended right in North Carolina, fighting this disease, 10 per cent going to the National Tuberculosis Association for the same purpose. A committee for the sale of the stamps will again be at work in Wilmington this year as well as in other cities of the State.

Four hundred thousand of these seals were sold last year in North Carolina, bringing in $4,000, of which 90 per cent remained within the State, and 75 per cent remained with the city which sold the seals wherever there was any tuberculosis work being done.

The National Association for the Cure and Prevention of Tuberculosis has again appointed Mr. Leet B. Myers executive secretary for the State with headquarters in Charlotte. Mr. Myers directed the sale of the seals last year during which the State increased its sales fourfold over any preceding year. It is hoped that 800,000 or 1,000,000 seals can be sold in the State this year.

Each city and village should take up the work as soon as possible and organize a local committee. Particulars can be had by writing to the executive secretary, State Red Cross Seal Commission, City Hall, Charlotte, N. C.

Store open for the Big Fall Sale, 9 A. M. today. 687 free gifts worth from 10c tq $10 given away during this sale. Gaylord-Platt Co., North Front street.—Advertisement.

Speculation Was Colorless, and the Day Was Devoid of Important Developments—Undertone Was Good.

New York, Sept. 11.—Speculation was colorless today, with a narrow movement downward. It was a day devoid of important developments. The undertone throughout was good.

Union Pacific's buoyant rise of yesterday made it a target, and it showed a loss of nearly two points at its low figure. In the afternoon there was increased selling of Steel and Amalgamated, but toward the close the market stiffened. Sentiment was cheerful. The favorable showing of the Steel and Copper statements, ending of the drouth in some portions of the corn belt and the recent improvement in the investment market were all referred to as indicating a betterment in fundamental conditions. Virginia-Carolina Chemical maintains a healthy movement.

Weakness of the grain markets was made the basis for bidding up the grangers in the late trading.

Money rates held steady around recent levels. A large outflow of cash to the interior, reflecting the normal autumn demand, is now expected. Banks put out most of their money on call, but showed some inclination to make concessions in acceptance of high grade mercantile paper.

Bonds continued to show irregularity, with signs of profit-taking in some speculative issues. Total sales, par value, $1,215,000. United States bonds, unchanged on call. Total sales today were 262,700, including American Tobacco, 100; Lehigh Valley, 400; N. and W., 600; Reading, 28,300; Southern Railway, 300; Tennessee Copper, 700; Union Pacific, 39,600; United States Steel, 41,900; V.-C. MAYOR GAYNOR DIES ABOARD OCEAN LINER ing Mayor, who will be New York's chief executive until the inauguration of Mayor Gaynor's successor, to be elected in November.

In seeking Colonel Kline he was unsuccessful. Colonel Kline had left the home of his son-in-law after an early breakfast, and at 10 o'clock had not heard of the Mayor's death. At that hour the flags on the city hall were half-masted by Mr. Adamson's orders.

Mayor Gaynor's death recalls the attempt on his life made by an assassin at Hoboken, in August of 1910. He was standing on the deck of the steamer Kaiser Wilheim Der Grosse, talking with friends and in the center of a group of city officials at the time.

Into this friendly gathering James G. Gallagher, the would-be assassin, made his way unobserved. When close to the Mayor he drew a revolver and fired a shot. The bullet penetrated Mr. Gaynor's throat. He suffered from this injury for many weeks, but finally recovered to a sufficient degree to enable him to resume his duties and was apparently none the worse for his experience until recently when the wound began to trouble him again. For his crime Gallagher was sentenced to 12 years' imprisonment. After little more than a year in prison he was transferred to the New Jersey State Hospital for the Insane, at Trenton, and died there last February.

Adolph L. Kline, who will be acting Mayor of New York till January 1st, next, is a resident of Brooklyn and a Republican. Mr. Kline reached the city hall at 11 o'clock and summoned the heads of departments to his office. He indicated that he would issue a proclamation later in the day.

Tentative plans, subject to revision by the Gaynor family, were to have the Mayor's body brought back to New York on the steamer Cedric, which sailed this afternoon from Liverpool. The Cedric is due at Queenstown tomorrow morning.

Gaynor's Early History.

William J. Gaynor was born on a farm near Whitestown, N. Y., in 1851. He had to help the family there in its struggle for existence and in this fight he had to take time for his own education. He graduated from the Whitestown Seminary, went to Boston to teach school and afterwards studied law in the office of Ward Hunt, of Utica, who later became a justice of the Supreme Court, New York. In 1873 young Gaynor went to Brooklyn and became a newspaper reporter. Two years later he was admitted to the bar.

Lived in Political Warfare

From that moment until his death Gaynor had lived in the midst of continual political warfare. He started it with an attack upon the unlicensed saloons in Flat Bush, a section in Brooklyn, and won. Ten years later he led a successful fight against the so-called McLaughlin ring in Brooklyn. His battle against John Y. McKane, boss of Sheepshead Bay and Coney Island, attracted nation-wide attention. McKane died in Sing Sing.

Gaynor was elected a justice of the Supreme Court of New York in 1893 on a nomination given him by Republicans and Independent Democrats, was re-elected in 1907, but resigned to accept the nomination of Mayor of New York city, to which he was elected in November, 1909. His career as Mayor of New York bore the imprint of his personality in many striking innovations.

Mayor Gaynor was a writer of many letters and attracted National attention by those and his policies. Prior to the Democratic National convention at Baltimore in June, 1912, the mention of his name was frequently made in connection with the nomination for President. He did not have the support of the Democratic organization in this State, however, and was not an active candidate for the honor.

Rufus Gaynor Issues Statement.

London, Sept. 11.—Rufus Gaynor, son of the late Mayor of New York, sent the following message by wireless to the Associated Press this evening:

"My father, William Jay Gaynor, died on board the White Star liner Baltic at 7 minutes past 1 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon. His death was due to heart failure. He was seated in his chair when the end came.

"The deck steward had been with the Mayor a few minutes before his death, and had taken his order for luncheon, the Mayor marking the menu to indicate the dishes he desired.

"I was on the boat deck and went below at the lunch call to tell my father that his lunch was ready. He had been taking his meals in one of the state rooms, and he was seated in his chair apparently asleep. I shook him gently, but he did not respond.

"His trained nurse who had been with him ten minutes previously, was summoned and the ship's surgeon, Dr. Hopper was called. The Mayor was given a hypodermic injection and artificial respiration was resorted to but it was quickly apparent that he was beyond any aid. An examination with stethoscope showed that the heart was no longer beating. The body was taken in charge by the ship's officers, embalmed and placed in a sealed casket.

"On the morning of his death the Mayor arose at about 9 o'clock and after a hearty breakfast went on deck. He walked about the boat deck at frequent intervals, keeping in the sun and he watched the men go through the fire drill. About ten minutes before one he descended to the promenade deck and went to his chair, remarking that he felt very well.

"During the voyage his health had steadily improved and his nervousness had decreased noticeably. He took a great deal of interest in the run of the ship day by day, and was particular as to just where the Baltic was when the chart was posted in the companion way each noon.

"On behalf of my mother, my family and myself, I wish to express publicly my deep gratitude to Captain Ransen and his officers for their kindness, courtesy and unfailing thoughtfulness and to acknowledge my debt to the passengers for their most courteous consideration at all times in respecting the Mayor's desire for privacy.

(Signed) "RUFUS W. GAYNOR".

Heart Trouble Caused Death.

Mayor Gaynor's family physician, Dr. John W. Parrish, said today that the mayor had suffered from heart trouble many years. This was a surprise to Mr. Gaynor's friends, who had believed his health was excellent up until the time he was shot.

"The Mayor's death at this time came to me as a great shock," said Dr. Parrish. "At the same time I was aware that he might expect a sudden end at any time. The signs of his serious condition have been evident ever since he was shot.

"One of the mayor's heart muscles was in a weakened condition. At the same time he suffered from arterio sclerosis. The two complaints often go together. When he was shot at Hoboken, the weakness of his heart was very evident. It was the kind of trouble likely to bring a man's life to a sudden close at any time.

"The trouble with his throat had nothing directly to do with his death. But, of course, the prolonged strain had had its effect on his vitality.

"Mayor Gaynor was a great worker. He would never take any vacation. He was never a man to coddle himself. He fought shy of doctors, even when he had a bad headache, of which he often complained. In the old days, when he was on the bench, he would stay longer in court than any other justice, often until 6 o'clock, when court was supposed to adjourn at 4. I warned him over and over again that he must take a thorough rest.

"'Impossible, absolutely impossible,' was his only answer."

Queenstown, Sept. 11.—The officials of the White Star Line think it possible that arrangements can be made to transfer Mayor Gaynor's body to the Cedric tomorrow morning.

EXAMINE RAILROAD ACCOUNTS.

To Determine Reasonable Charge for Depreciation in Equipment.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 11.—After a day spent in discussing the question of what constituted a reasonable charge for depreciation in the equipment of a railroad as applicable to the petition of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad for the approval of a $67,000,000 bond issue, the Massachusetts Public Service Commission announced today that the examinations of the accounts of the road would be conducted in private.

The hearing will go on tomorrow when those objecting to the bond issue will be heard, after which it is expected that public sessions will be suspended until expert accountants are ready with their figures.

Vice President Kochersperger virtually was the only witness of the day, is the remarks of Joseph O'Neil, president of the Federal Trust Company, of Boston, in support of the bond issues were brief. Mr. Kochersperger outlined the purposes to which the company would apply the money, including large expenditures along the Shore Line. He said that the $67,000,000 would be hardly sufficient to carry out all of the company's plans for placing the road in first-class shape and that several millions more would be required.

OFF YEAR FOR APPLES.

Early Frosts and Excessive Rainfall Militated Against Crop.

Washington, Sept. 11.—This will be an "off year" for apples, according to a special forecast issued today by William A. Taylor, chief of the Department of Agriculture plant industry bureau. Early frosts and excessive rains at blossoming time are expected to reduce the quantity and quality of the orchard output generally.

However, the forecast said, prospects are bright for fine crops of the famous Albemarle pippin of Virginia, the Jonathan, of the Ozark mountains, the Greenings and Spys, in the Great Lakes region, and the York Imperial of Pennsylvania. Reports to the bureau indicate greatly reduced yields of apples in Canada, Great Britain, France and Germany.

SCHOONER WELLS SOLD.

Six Masted Vessel Stranded at Ocracoke Bought for $800.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 11.—The wreck of the six masted Boston schooner, George W. Wells, was sold on the Ocracoke beach yesterday for $800. Capt. J. H. York, Mate Gus Green and the female relatives of Capt. York, who remained at Ocracoke when the rest of thase saved from the Wells in the severe storm of September 3rd, were brought to Norfolk on the revenue cutter Onondaga, are expected to start North from Ocracoke today.

SENATOR HOKE SMITH.

Believes Currency Bill Will be Enacted Before First of December.

Washington, Sept. 11.—"The Currency bill will be enacted into law before December 1st," said Senator Hoke Smith today, after a conference with President Wilson. The Georgia Senator said that every effort would be made in the Senate to hasten passage of the bill, and that while the administration measure might be amended in some particulars, he believed a bill satisfactory to the Democratic majority would be passed by the Senate during the present session.

TARGET PRACTICE DELAYED.

By Accident in Boiler Room of Battleship Nebraska.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 11.—An accident in the boiler room on the battleship Nebraska this morning delayed temporarily the target practice of the Atlantic fleet. According to reports received in this city, the head of No. 3 boiler was blown out but no one was injured. The Nebraska will come here for repairs, according to advices received from Washington tonight.

Washington, Sept. 11.—A partial report by the board of army engineers on the project for an inter-coastal inland waterway from Boston, Mass., to the Ria Grande river, was filed with the House today. The report presented plans for a canal ten feet in depth from Beaufort, N. C., to Key West, Fla., at a cost of $30,054,000, and a canal seven feet in depth across the Florida peninsula at a cost of $14,444,869.

Washington, Sept. 11.—President Wilson left here at 5:35 o'clock this afternoon on the Federal Express for Cornish, N. H., where he expects to remain until Tuesday.

SAD DEATH OF CHILD.

Young Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Moore Passed Away.

Katherine Lenora, the six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Moore, of East Wilmington, died at the James Walker Memorial Hospital Wednesday night at 9:30 o'clock of typhoid fever. The mother is also seriously ill of typhoid at the hospital. The body was taken yesterday to the undertaking parlors of the M. H. Brimmer Co., and will be buried this morning at 9 o'clock at the Middle Sound church burying ground. The funeral services will be conducted by Rev. H. W. Koelling, assistant pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church. Many friends of the bereaved parents sympathize tenderly with them in their sorrow, and earnestly hope that Mrs. Moore may soon recover from her illness.

PARTNERSHIP IN FARMING.

Englishman Contends Landlord and Renter Should Capitalize Equally.

Birmingham, Eng., Sept. 11.—Capitalization of the tenant to an amount equal to the value of rented farm lands was advanced as one solution of the problem of partnership in the agriculture between landlord and tenant in an address by Sir Richard A. Paget before the British Association here today.

While Sir Richard's address dealt primarily with English conditions, he discused the system of farming on shares as exists in Canada and the United States. While this system gave an opening for capital and enabled a farmer to operate without capital of his own, he said it had the objection that the landlord was only interested in the yield of the crop, not in the cost of producing it, since the cost of labor fell on the tenant. Thus the interest of the parties were not identical and the system did not tend to encourage the most intensive culture.

"The ideal system," continued the speaker, "would appear to be a business partnership wherein the landlord invests the land, the tenant invests what capital he can, and the balance necessary for the most efficient cultivation is invested by the landlord, or it might be borrowed by the partnership on the security of its assets and the guarantees of the partners.

"The landlord is credited, for the purpose of division of profits, with the agricultural value of the land, and the tenant is credited with a nominal capital representing the capitalized value of his skill and services.

"In estimating the amount of the tenant's capitalized value, it is assumed that, if the partners each provide half the cash capital, the tenant's share of profits in return for his services should be equal to the landlord's in return for his land and for such services as he may be able to render to the partnership.

"If, therefore, the land is valued at say, 4,500 pounds, the tenant would also be credited with 4,500 pounds as representing the capitalized value of his services.

"If the capital required were 1,500 pounds, and, in the first instance, the whole of it were supplied by the landlord, the landlord would be credited with 4,500 pounds, plus 1,500 pounds equals 6,000 pounds, as against the tenant's 4,500 pounds, and would, therefore, receive four-sevenths as against three-seyenths of the divisible profits.

"In estimating profits, all expenses for repairs, taxes and insurance, etc., are charged to the partnership.

"The tenant is given the right to invest from time to time up to the total amount of the cash capital, thus buying out the landlord's capital interest, other than his interest in the land. The landlord would then receive three-sevenths of the profits, and his money back, while the tenant would receive the remaining four-sevenths of the profits."

Sir Richard said that among other benefits he believed such a system would tend to make agriculture an industry comparable with other industries; to encourage commercial methods, the keeping of proper accounts, and more scientific methods; to give to agriculture the advantage of better credit and cheaper money, by the association of the landlord's credit with that of the farmer; to encourage landlords or other capitalists to invest in agriculture; to enable properly trained farmers to start farming without capital of their own, and to give them an opportunity to invest their savings in their farms; to facilitate systematic profit-sharing with laborers on farms, and to give landlords a business interest in their farms.

TRINITY OPENS AUSPICIOUSLY.

Former President Kilgo Exhorts Students to be Teachable.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Durham, N. C., Sept. 11.—Trinity College has opened with a very large attendance. More of the old men than usual returned this year and the number of freshmen from all indications seems to be greater than at any previous opening. There is no way of stating definitely just how many new men there are at Trinity yet, as the freshmen have not yet matriculated. However, all the dormitory rooms are filled and students are still coming in.

Promptly at 9 o'clock the members of the senior class congregated around the flag pole in front of the Craven Memorial Hall, and while the crowd sang America, the flag was slowly raised by the class president, Mr. J. R. Davis, of Shelby.

The morning exercises were conducted by Dr. George S. Sexton, of Dallas, Texas, after which the students were given an address of welcome by Bishop John C. Kilgo. Bishop Kilgo made a most impressive and beautiful talk to the young men and women. He said that the first essential to the securing of a right education was that the student be teachable. He admitted that teachableness was a passive virtue, but declared that it was nevertheless one of the highest of virtues, because a man can never impart knowledge or anything else until he has permitted it to be imparted to him. He also urged them with great eloquence to be earnest, to be enthusiastic, to be clean, and finally to gain and retain a companionship of the Holy Spirit.

After Bishop Kilgo's appeal to the students, President Few made a short speech of welcome to the students, both old and new. He expressed it as his hope that all the men at Trinity were true seekers after enlightenment and were not coming to college from any ulterior motive, as men with the latter purpose in view were not tolerated at Trinity.

FAYETTEVILLE BOOSTERS.

Chamber of Commerce Elects Officers and Maps Out Plans for Work.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Fayetteville, N. C., Sept. 11.—At the annual meeting last night the Chamber of Commerce elected T. Gilmer McAlister president, succeeding Hubert Ramsaur, who declined a second term; John W. Judge, secretary, succeeding Fred P. Johnson, retired; Thos. H. Sutton, Jr., first vice president, and John Allen McLean, Jr., second vice president.

Mr. Johnson, who has been making a comprehensive study of the plan of organization of commercial bodies throughout the country, outlined a plan evolved by him applicable to the needs of Fayetteville. It is best described as commission government applied to a chamber of commerce, and every member is assigned duties of some kind, and each member being a unit, a paid secretary is not needed. The plan is considered ideal and under it there is enthusiastic optimism and belief that Fayetteville's commercial advancement will be sure and steady during the coming year.

Save in Safety!

Don't put your Savings in the top bureau drawer nor in a hole in the mattress or an old sock.

Such places are not safe; they offer no protection from either fire or thieves.

But, put your hard earned money in this strong Savings Bank, where it will be safe and ready for your use when needed.

We pay 4 per cent compound interest and keep your savings safe.
